NEW LIST OF PRECINCT OFFICERS GIVEN OUT AT CITY HALL

Board of Election Commissioners Make Known New List—Of the 34 Changes Appearing 28, Are of Democratic Officers—Some Changes Due to Deaths

The board of elections commissioners today made known the new list of precinct election officers for 1924-1925, there being about 34 changes as compared with the list of 1923. Of these 28 are of democratic officers and the remainder, less than half a dozen, are republicans. Of the 24 officers the changes affect between 7 and 8 per cent.

Chairman Hugh McOsker said this noon that many of the changes are due to deaths or removals from wards, none being due to resignations. In some wards and in several precincts there are no changes whatever from the old list, he stated. Notifications will be sent those on the lists in the early part of next week.

The new list, official and complete, follows:

POLICE MAY ARREST MOTORMEN FOR OBSTRUCTING TRAFFIC

Traffic Officers Instructed to Give Offending Motormen to Understand Where They Are At—Officer Brennan Resurrects City Traffic Ordinance Adopted in 1918

Because of recent difficulties experienced by the police in enforcing down-town traffic rules with respect to operators of street railway cars, agitation for a "show down" has been started, and traffic officers have been instructed to bring offending motormen to the realization that they are not exempt from prosecution when the regulations are violated.

The action has been started in view of the fact that certain traffic officers have met with opposition from some street car operators in endeavoring to keep the main thoroughfares open. This morning, Officer Daniel P. Brennan resurrected the city traffic ordinance adopted in 1918, and quoted the following paragraph from section 7 dealing with electric cars:

"No driver, operator or person having charge of any vehicle, whether animal drawn or motor drawn, including street cars, shall be permitted to stop or stand within the intersection of any streets, nor on any crosswalk except when directed to do so by a police officer in uniform. No driver, vehicles or cars shall refuse or neglect to stop when so directed by a police officer in uniform."

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN TAKEN FROM CANAL

The body of an unidentified man, believed to be a resident of Whitinsville, Mass., was taken from the Hamilton canal along Jackson street about 7:30 o'clock this morning.

From appearances, the body had been in the water for a long time, decomposition making identification difficult. The remains were removed to the undertaking establishment of William A. Mack in Corbin street.

The discovery of the body was made by employees on their way to work in the Hamilton mill. Mill officials were notified and the police called. In a pocket of the dead man's clothing was found an eye-glass case, bearing the name and address of Frank A. Fairbanks, Central building, Church street, Whitinsville, Mass. There were no marks on the body that would lead the police to suspect foul play, and no money was found in the clothing, which resembled that of a laborer.

He is described as a middle-aged man, 5 feet, 5 inches in height, smooth face, and weighs about 165 pounds.

The police have endeavored to communicate with the address found on his person, but have been unable to procure any clue as to his identity.

Billy Meyers, former city editor of The Sun, is in Greenland with the world fliers. Billy's all dolled up in a double-thick polar bear fur coat and everything, but still covering all the legs for the "A.P."

It wouldn't be a real news event if Billy Meyers wasn't there. No one knew that Billy was traveling around the world since the Oshkosh, or Lignuebagis, or the like, so he could send word right out to civilization ahead of anybody else.

Billy Meyers' job has been to "cover" this world tour for The Associated Press and not fall down on the job. He hasn't slipped up yet, from all accounts. He has been carried along on the war ships sent out ahead of the airmen to provide relief in case of distress. It was Billy's task to locate the first cable station handy anywhere he happened to be along the route and get in touch with the U.S.A.

LOWELL MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Edward O'Neil of Agawam Street in Serious Condition at St. John's Hospital as Result of Automobile Accident in Billerica This Morning

Edward O'Neil of 55 Agawam street, is on the dangerous list in St. John's hospital suffering with a possible fracture of the skull and other serious injuries as the result of being struck and run down by an automobile owned and operated by Arthur B. Hall of 62 Pine Ridge street, Waban.

The accident happened in a peculiar manner on the state highway in Billerica, near the Ever-Ready Filling station, this morning. According to Chief Henry E. Livingston and Officer William O'Brien of the Billerica police, who investigated the accident, O'Neil alighted from the rear of a large truck operated by Benjamin Sylvia of 15 Penman street, and stepped directly in the path of the Hall machine, which was following closely in the same direction. The unexpected action took Hall unawares and he was unable to bring his car, a Willis-St. Claire coach, to a stop before hitting O'Neil.

One of the wheels of the pleasure car passed over O'Neil's leg. The Lowell city ambulance was called and the injured man was rushed to St. John's hospital, where an X-ray picture was taken to determine the extent of his injuries. The result of the X-ray was not known at an early hour this afternoon, but hospital authorities stated that the man's condition was serious.

The truck and the pleasure car were proceeding in the direction of Boston when the accident occurred. Mr. Hall had as passengers in his car, William A. Quigley of 53 State street, Boston, and Almon E. Greenleaf of 11 Mt. Vernon street, Boston. Although the machine suffered a damaged right mudguard and broken headlights, none of the occupants was hurt.

DEFENSE OPENS ATTACK ON STATE'S PLEA FOR DEATH OF YOUTHS

Atty. Darrow, Veteran Chief Counsel for Leopold and Loeb, Takes Up His Part of Summing Up Arguments Before Judge Caverly

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The forensic heavy artillery attack on the state's plea for death for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb for murdering Robert Franks was expected to be reached today, when Clarence Darrow, veteran chief defense counsel, takes up his part of the summing up arguments before Judge John H. Caverly. It is probable his address will consume the balance of the week.

A change in plans by attorneys for the youths brought Mr. Darrow's address after the completion of the opening arguments for their side by Walter Bachrach, who began yesterday. His brother Benjamin will conclude the defense plans for mitigation of punishment based on a "degree of mental disease less than insanity."

The final summing up of the prosecution by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, will come after the defense has concluded, early next week. Then Judge Caverly has indicated, he will take several days to weigh the theories, facts and arguments brought out during the long legal battle.

The opening of the defense summing up by Walter Bachrach came yesterday after the dramatic eloquence of Joseph Savage, assistant state's attorney, ended for the nonce the prosecution plea for the gallows.

Mr. Bachrach calmly discussed the aspects of the case which he contended pointed to mental disease, how preposterous it appeared that two sons of millionaires should have killed for any reason, much less for the $10,000 ransom they demanded. The very act, he argued, was palpable proof of mental instability.

Accordingly, the letter stated, Uthlein and one hundred other citizens of the United States had been selected to contribute to forward the cause of education in the manner named.

"Red" Sweeney and Woman
Said to Be His Wife, Arrested After Struggle

Stolen Jewelry Found in Boston Hotel Room Occupied
By Couple

BOSTON, August 22.—Characterized by police as a "most dangerous person" and one who should not be allowed his freedom except under heavy bonds, Joseph F. ("Red") Sweeney of Charlestown, arrested in company with a woman claiming to be Mrs. Naomi Sweeney, his wife, at the Hotel Alphon, early yesterday morning, was arraigned before Judge David A. Laurie, who held them in lieu of $50,000 for a hearing next Thursday, while his wife was bailed to the amount of $15,000 on an accessory charge.

Sweeney and his wife were arrested in their room on the third floor of the Hotel Alphon, 231 Tremont street. Their apprehension was preceded by a heated argument in which the pair were prominent late Wednesday night.

About 11 p. m. Wednesday, the couple, with two men, were talking near the Broadway parking space. Officer Coleman Morrison of the La-grange Street station, who was near-by, was attracted by the loud talk and heated words of the participants. The quarrel became intense and he decided that the group should be dispersed. Going forward the officer ordered the quartet to break up.

Two of the men went in one direction, while Sweeney and his woman companion went to the hotel, closely followed by the policeman. Morrison communicated with Sergeant Edward A. Ryan and the two officers, armed with a warrant, went to Sweeney's room. Receiving no reply to a demand to open up, the officers broke in the door. As they entered Sweeney leaped from the bed and a lively tussle was in progress. The combined strength of the policemen proved too much and Sweeney was subdued. His companion also was taken into custody.

Find Clothing and Jewelry

Searching the room, the police found four suitcases filled with up-to-date sport suits for men and women, silk shirts and high grade lingerie. Also found a sawed-off shotgun under the bed and a .38 calibre revolver, both loaded.

Continuing the hunt, Sergeant Ryan and Officer Morrison found two hotel towels on the floor. These towels, suspended, and on unrolling their jewelry valued at $4500 was revealed. Included in this loot were 42 gold watches, 30 gold chains, 21 rings of different styles, 21 stickpins, four lockets, 24 pairs of cuff links, a Knight of Pythias chain, a fourth degree K. of C. chain and 14 stones of various types, including diamonds.

Sweeney and his wife were taken to Station 4 and booked as suspicious persons. Officers immediately started a checkup of recent hotel guests in a short time communicated with Abraham M. Sonnabend, manager of the Massachusetts Avenue Loan company, 350 Massachusetts avenue, Back Bay, who had been held up and robbed on Tuesday morning at 3.45 o'clock.

Sonnabend went to the station and told the officials that while alone in his establishment Tuesday morning, two men entered and, with leveled revolvers, told him to open the safe. Sonnabend opened the small vault and one of the men scooped up $125 in money, and a quantity of jewelry stored. The pair fled from the store and made their getaway.

Identified as Holding Man
After Sonnabend's story had been told, Sweeney was brought out and was identified as one of the robbers. The jewelry also was brought out and was identified by Sonnabend as his property.

Sweeney was then booked on the charge of robbery while armed, while Mrs. Sweeney was held as an accessory. Both were taken to police headquarters, where they were questioned by Supt. Crowley and were photographed and fingerprinted.

When the police grilling had been finished the pair were taken before Judge Laurie for arraignment. The police told of the dangerous character of Sweeney and his alleged accomplice and asked for high bail. The request was granted. Police said that in a bag belonging to Mrs. Sweeney they found a bottle of poison and a diary containing names and addresses of persons in Norfolk and Baltimore. Police say Sweeney was arrested in April, 1923, in connection with an attempted hold-up at a drugstore in Allston. He was arrested by Officer Gottlieb of Station 14. Later he was released.

DAWES RECEPTION AT WESTBROOK, CONN.

WESTBROOK, Conn., Aug. 22.—Residents of Westbrook, including members of the town's summer colony, were invited today to a reception for Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, who is the guest here for the day of Walter H. Wilson of Chicago, before he resumes tonight his trip to Maine to speak tomorrow at a state-wide republican rally in Augusta.

Mr. Dawes, it was considered likely, would make a brief address to those invited to meet him. It is not anticipated, however, that he will make any extended remarks on the campaign issues as he has given the impression that he will reserve such speeches for dates scheduled by the republican national committee.

THE END OF A SUMMER FLIRTATION

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Much interest was displayed at the box office of the B. F. Keith theatre, yesterday, when patrons "booked up" their subscriptions for the season and selected seats for performances throughout the coming month. The box office opened at 10 o'clock, and the string of callers for reservations was a steady one.

Everything will be working in ship-shape order next Monday, when the 15th season is officially opened. With a bill of big acts and a feature picture there is every reason why lovers of good variety should attend.

The theatre has been cleaned from top to bottom during the summer months, and additions have been made which will not only enhance the presentation of acts materially but which will mean greater comfort for the patrons.

The orchestra will be headed by William Gilmore, and the players of other season will be on hand when the overture is opened.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

One of the greatest storm scenes since "The Old Homestead" is a feature of the new Herbert Brenon production for Paramount, "The Breaking Point," which is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre. The story is a gripping western drama, starting in New York and shifting to the Wyoming mountain country. It tells of the life of a man, George Fawcett, and Matt Moore, who are featured in the principal roles. Mary Roberts Rinehart wrote the story which was unusually successful both as a novel and stage play.

The second attraction of the current program is "The Moral Sinner" starring popular Dorothy Dalton in a love-melodrama of Paris. A comedy and the latest International News complete the bill.

An engagement of "The Covered Wagon" is announced for the Merrimack Square theatre soon.

RIALTO THEATRE

Capacity audiences at the Rialto yesterday went and smiled and sympathized as the story of the weakling, Dr. Steve Madison, was unfolded in "The Drug Traffic," which is the attraction at that popular movie theatre today and tomorrow. Hundreds of men, women and children marveled at the exposé of the damnable drug traffic as it operates, wrecking death and irreparable damage among mankind. "The Drug Traffic" is a story of human love and hate, of criminals who repent, of unfortunate ones who fall of the weak who conquer. There is a splendid lesson taught by this melodramatic production for it is convincingly true to life and no effort is spared to emphasize the evil of this terrible calamity, which has claimed millions of lives. The picture is superbly produced with splendid acting on the part of Gladys Brockwell, who as the reformed drug addict, gives a portrayal of a human soul that will not soon be forgotten. Others in the cast of importance are Barbara Tennant and Rob Walker, the latter as the unfortunate surgeon who is nearly strangled while in the clutches of the octopus and they do splendid work. Another big hit of the program was the first chapter of the new Palthe serial, "The Way of a Man" written by Emerson Hough author of "The Covered Wagon." It shows the obstacles and hardships that the early settlers underwent in their march across the country by the Oregon trail.

The added feature is "Lawless Men" with Neal Hart. Other pictures on the bill include a Sunshine comedy and a Fox News.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, August 22—All the "smut cracks" aren't uttered by humans. Parrots have gone in for the new and lighter lingo.

A friend relates many of the interesting quips of his bird.

When the bird is covered for the night he invariably hawks out, "Good night, boys!"

"Do you like it?" is the question he asks as the family sits for meals—especially when there is company.

Two children were playing on a fire escape, overlooked from the parrot's cage. "Watch your step," was the admonition he shouted.

If the door bell rings the bird cries, "Come in. Who is it?"

He refuses to leave his cage on any pretext. The last time he was taken from the cage he was moved to Chicago. He didn't like the western city and fears a repetition of the journey. But every time his cage is placed under a shower bath, he flaps his wings and squawks "Atta boy!"

When the bird's master leaves for the office each day, the bird waxes sentimental—then humorous and delaying, with "Good-bye, hate to see you leave—good-bye—haw-haw-haw."

A patriarchal bird and dog dealer in Brooklyn has a parrot that has been his sole companion for many years. The bird, a rare species, is worth a fortune. But the man of dwindling wealth probably would scarce before parting with "Bobby."

Each night as the dealer walks about his shop selling his dogs a fond good night, the parrot mournfully and jealously asks, "You love Bobby?" Indeed, the aged dealer does.

Alexander Dolowitz, nattily dressed but homeless, tried to break into jail but failed.

He took a long taxi ride and then refused to pay on the grounds he had no money.

The magistrate was powerless to sentence Dolowitz because the taxi driver refused to appear as a prosecuting witness when he found Dolowitz was anxious to be jailed.

Spite work.

A warrant for the rearrest of Robert Allen, a prisoner in Sing Sing, had been filed.

Allen asked officials who filed it. He found it was Justice Lewis Raisig in prison himself for embezzling fines.

"They will talk it over behind Sing Sing's wall this week."

Between 1912 and 1922 the national wealth of the United States was increased by 72.2 per cent, according to a British statistician.

GREATEST SALE IN YEARS

REASON: Our store is crowded with beautiful, new, latest model Napanee Dutch Kitchenets; too many for comfort. As we simply can't spare all the room they're taking, we have made up our minds to "clear out" the surplus AT ONCE. Now we realize that the quickest way to do this is to "cut loose" on inducements, savings and terms. So here's your chance, Mrs. Kitchen Cabinet Buyer. We need the room and if you have space in your kitchen, we'll make you a proposition that you can't beat. Come in Saturday

NOTICE: This sale is limited to our surplus stock and we reserve the privilege of withdrawing this offer without further notice. Among these beautiful cabinets are models to fit any space. Some are only 24 in. wide—others 36 in., 42 in. and even 50 in. wide! There's any variety—in beautiful French gray, snow white and golden oak finishes. You're sure to find one you like—and our offer will do the rest. All are genuine Napanees, "The world's finest kitchen cabinets." Wonderfully constructed! Seize this chance!

Amazing Savings, Inducements and Terms—for Saturday

LISTEN: We will even take in your present cabinet as a cash payment on any Napanee in this stock. Don't let anything stand in the way of your attending this sale. You never saw finer built, finer looking cabinets—and we wager the savings we will offer you are also beyond duplication. Never again such an opportunity! Act on it Saturday

WAKEFIELD MAN HELD IN DEATH CASE

ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—The charge of manslaughter was preferred against George Fraughton of Wakefield, Mass., today, as the result of the death of Edward Sukeforth, with whom he admitted having quarreled last night, officers said.

According to a witness, some words were exchanged and Fraughton was alleged to have struck Sukeforth with his fist. In falling, Sukeforth, who is about 70, landed on the pavement and received injuries to the base of the brain. He did not recover consciousness.

Fraughton is 32 and married. He was arrested at the home of his father-in-law here.

MARBLE MARKERS FOR GRAVES OPPOSED

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—Hellel Lawson, 11, of Chicago was elected president late yesterday of the Association of American Cemetery Superintendents at the closing session. The 1925 convention will be held in Chicago.

Arthur J. Floyd superintendent of Evergreen cemetery here, was unanimously elected vice president. W. B.

Jones of Pittsburgh was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Joseph A. Reed of Canton, O., the retiring president was chosen a member of the executive committee for three years.

Secretary Jones presented the report of the committee on soldiers' markers, recommending to the association that the grave marker prescribed in the war department regulations for soldiers' graves be put in to be prohibited in cemeteries under the jurisdiction of the association.

The committee has worked for the substitution of granite markers rather than marble, but their recommendations were opposed by the quarter master general of the army in his report on the matter to the war department.

The Grand Army of the Republic in some locations has backed the stand of the cemetery maintenance committee, and efforts to have granite substituted for the marble will be continued.

VICTORY FOR FRENCH PREMIER

Herriot Wins First Party Battle in Chamber on London Agreement

Motion to Refer London Accord on Dawes Plan To Commission Defeated

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Premier Herriot without much difficulty won the first party battle in the chamber of deputies on the London reparations agreement, and, barring the unexpected development always possible in politics, he may be fairly expected to win the second after submitting to the interpellations, the total of which has now reached 34.

His first victory came last evening when the chamber defeated, 320 votes to 209, a motion to refer the London accord on the Dawes plan to a commission with the understanding that the premier sign the agreement before parliament debated the question of ratification, on the theory that the accord constituted a new treaty outside the Versailles pact.

The vote was taken after the premier had read a long declaration defending his negotiations at the London conference. Although M. Herriot has come off victorious in the first tilt it is possible that the debate may take longer than was originally calculated.

Yesterday's motion and vote having delayed the opening of the discussion.

There will undoubtedly be a stern fight, as M. Herriot's critics include some of the most able parliamentary tacticians.

Plays Dawes Plan

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Communist Leader Marcel Cachin, interpellating Premier Herriot at today's session of the Chamber of Deputies on the London reparations accord, declared that "Dawes represents American imperialism in a direct, personal and concrete fashion."

Herriot merely shrugged his massive shoulders, readjusted his horn-rimmed glasses and continued making notes.

Resuming, Deputy Cachin said that "the new American policy is not very disinterested. It has strictly an economic basis. The Americans hope to find an enfeebled European market where they can impose their conditions. They must have healthy markets to which they can export, hence the Dawes plan. They have no sympathy of Europe nor for our country."

The communists in the chamber alone applauded the interpellator and M. Cachin proceeded to make the charge that the Americans at the London international conference imposed the Dawes plan "with force and some brutality" referring to the Hughes' speech at the Pilgrims' club as an example. American statesmen, according to the Communist deputy, are hostile to Red Russia "both from a class spirit and because they do not wish to see Russian wheat flooding the world's markets."

At the end of the morning sitting, the chamber voted to begin discussion on the ratification of the Lausanne treaty as soon as the debates on the London conference have been concluded.

FOSTER SEES BIG REVOLUTION

Declares "Democracy We Live Under is Fake and a Pretense"

Plays La Follette and Invites Workers to Join Communistic Organization

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 22.—William Z. Foster of Chicago, presidential nominee of the Workers' party, in an address here last night, declared that "the democracy we live under is a fake and a pretense," and invited his audience to "join the workers' party and become a member of the international communistic organization of the world on the eve of the greatest revolution in history."

Foster referred to the present government in Russia as an "ideal workers' government," declaring that "the soviet system is the next step in the social evolution in America."

He characterized Senator La Follette's presidential candidacy as "entering to the small capitalists, the small business men, merchants and some farmers," and declared that "when the workers become more powerful in this country, La Follette, Gompers and the small capitalists will rise with the big capitalists to squelch us."

VOTERS' REGISTRATION

Evening Session Last Night Added 177 Names to Local Check-Lists

Just 177 names were added to the check-lists as a result of last night's evening session of the elections board, held from 7 to 9 o'clock in city hall.

This was the third and last evening session before the primaries to be held on Sept. 8th. Daily registration sessions, from 9 to 4 o'clock will continue, except on Saturdays when the office closes at 12:30 o'clock.

There has been a healthy registration all year and last night's figures were not at all surprising to political shrews as it is known that many candidates are going over the check lists and urging unregistered friends to get their names listed. Since the presidential primaries in April 567 persons have been registered during the day sessions of the board, making a total registered 1768 through the day and night sessions.

Chairman McOsker of the elections board said this morning that 567 persons had been registered up to Monday, from the date of the presidential primaries late in April, and that with the opening of evening registration sessions for three days this week further increases in the check lists were made.

On Monday 67 names were added, 117 Tuesday, 49 Wednesday, and 177 yesterday. The low number for Wednesday is accounted for by the fact there was no evening session on that day.

Thus far this week, up to 11 o'clock today, 801 new names have been added to the lists of those registered.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Automobile production figures for July, although showing a decline from the output of the same month last year, are considered satisfactory to the trade. Cars manufactured showed a decided gain over June, to which special significance is attached, because a decided decline was shown by production last July over the previous month.

Bankers are reported to be giving careful attention to the action of the railroad shares. Although Southern Railway common crossed seventy for the first time in its history of 30 years, rail issues were the weakest group in yesterday's trading. As they began the upward movement in the market several months ago, it is expected they will be the first part of the list to be subject to distribution.

The Fisher Body corporation earned net income of $1,625,170 in the quarter ended July 31, equal to $2.52 a share on the common stock against $3,636,391 or $5.16 in the corresponding quarter of 1923.

Rum-Runner Shot to Death

Continued
Seabright station and six men in the speed boat Lynx II. The crew and boat were captured with five hundred cases of whiskey found aboard the craft.

The coast guards fought with machine guns and revolvers. The remaining five men of the Lynx II crew identified themselves as Joseph Wilson, John Dykes, B. L. Smith, all of New York, and Henry Wolf, and Hans Karlson of Brooklyn.

After bringing ashore the prisoners, Piepro's body, and the whiskey, the coast guards who had been on patrol all night, put out again on another search.

Piepro was the third run-runner shot in this vicinity during the last two weeks. The two others are now in Monmouth Memorial hospital, Long Branch.

HOME OF BROCKTON SHOE MAN ROBBED

BROCKTON, Aug. 22.—A burglary believed to be the work of professionals was committed on the premises of Fred F. Field, president of the Brockton Fair and prominent shoe manufacturer, some time between Aug. 13 and today. His home at 729 North Main street was entered and $1200 in money, jewels and clothing were taken.

The break was discovered when Mr. Field returned from Monument Beach today on business and visited his home.

UNITED STATES SENATE

Before the death of Senator Colt of Rhode Island, the republicans had fifty-one members in the United States senate. Now the nominal republican strength is 50, but of these, Ladd, Fraser, Norris and Brookhart are classed with the insurgents. This situation causes much speculation as to what would result if the election of president were thrown into the house and no choice could be made, viz., if none of the candidates who sought election at the polls could secure the necessary majority. In the event of the election being thrown into congress, the senate would have to elect the vice president, and if it failed to elect, following a like failure in the house, the situation would be unprecedented and would present a problem for which the constitution provides no definite remedy. In such a case it is believed that under the rule of succession adopted by congress, Secretary Hughes would serve as president during the deadlock.

But the republicans are holding up to the country the possibility of the senate in such a case, electing Governor Bryan, because of his alleged radical tendencies. Bryan has shown no leaning toward radicalism. He is the friend of the farmer, but is not advocating any radical measures in behalf of the agricultural industry. This is but one of the bugaboos with which republicans are trying to prevent the people from voting the democratic ticket. It contemplates a remote possibility that might not occur in a thousand years and we do not believe it is going to fool anybody. There will be no danger of the election being thrown into the house as the indications point to the election of Davis and Bryan.

DAWES AND HIS CLAIMS

The chief effect of Dawes' speech, if it be taken seriously, which we very much doubt, would be to instigate a class war between what he terms the revolutionists behind La Follette, or in other words, between the red flag and the American flag; and he, presumptuously, as is his wont, claims that the republican party alone stands for the American flag. He is evidently bent on trying to persuade the people that the republican party alone can save the country, but it may be faintly recalled that the democrats in congress have had a busy time of it in saving the government and the people from the rapacity of republican corruptionists. Possibly Mr. Dawes thinks he can have the people forget all about that and about the industrial depression by spreading alarm over the supposed menace of red radicalism.

The election of the democratic ticket will safeguard the country alike against radicalism and against republican corruption and mismanagement. The G. O. P. has been fairly tried and found wanting in the ability to conduct the government of the nation along the lines of progress and prosperity. That is why it should be retired. We do not think Mr. Dawes will get very far with the assumption that his party has a monopoly of all the patriotism in the country.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

There is a growing conviction that the industrial depression is petering out and that there will be a very general resumption of activity in the textile and other lines in the early fall. Unemployment for the past year or two has been widely prevalent throughout the country, resulting from a lack of demand for manufactured products. The foreign market was practically cut off; the domestic was not sufficient to absorb all our products and hence our factories had to go on short time for lack of orders. Some of them, we understand, continued to run at a loss, merely to help their employees tide over the dull period.

Meanwhile the farmers of the west who were badly affected by the depression are rejoicing in the high prices of wheat and other farm products. As a result of the operation of natural and economic laws, they are rapidly recovering from the adverse conditions from which they suffered during the past two years. They are now able to buy what they want and to pay off part of their indebtedness. The result helps the entire country, it appears. It would seem that an improvement is at hand and that in the near future, even the textile industry, perhaps the most sensitive to adverse conditions, will experience a welcome improvement.

A year ago the price of wheat was 90 cents a bushel, now it is $1.30. The increase is due to short crops in Canada, Northern Africa and in some European countries. The American wheat grower has the double advantage of a large yield and a much higher price. As a result there is a greater activity in the leading industries, including steel, motor production, leather and railroad equipment.

The financial expert of the First National Bank of New York, in his monthly review, makes this encouraging statement:

"The cotton mills are producing slightly more, and a significant fact is, that manufacturers are now refusing firm but unsatisfactory price proposals for goods. This phase is usually the forerunner of substantial business at reasonably satisfactory levels. The hand-to-mouth policy of practically all branches of industry, coupled with very drastic curtailment of production in recent months, has set the stage for a sound revival in business, the beginning of which is already apparent."

SELECTING AN OCCUPATION

About this time a great number of school graduates are considering just where they will fit in the industrial environment. Some of them are undecided as to whether they will go to work or go back to school. The graduate who has fixed his mind upon a definite pursuit has a great advantage in singleness of purpose. Unless a graduate finds congenial employment in the line of his aptitudes, he is not likely to succeed. If, however, he shows no special preference for any particular calling, then he will probably founder until he finds the pursuit for which he is best adapted, after only taking a lot of hard knocks in the school of experience.

It would be well indeed if the parents or teachers could decide the vocation of the young graduate; but although some experts claim to be able to do so, experience shows that decisions so made very often prove disappointing. It is reasonable that the graduate himself should have something to say in the choice of his life.

Post Work

The Fireman's Cat

A cat that slides down the brass pole in a fire station when an alarm rings and delights in accompanying the firemen to a blaze has been discovered in a station in lower Manhattan. The firemen adopted the cat as a mascot while it was a kitten.

Short, the Tall Man

"Isn't a lawsuit involving a patent right about the dullest thing imaginable?" asked one lawyer of another. "Not always," was the reply. "I attended a trial of that character not long ago that was really funny. A tall lawyer named Short was making a 6000-word document be called a brief."—Everybody's Magazine.

Used Shorn Tresses

Jung Bo, wife of a Chinese merchant in Canada, returned from China with bobbed hair, but she carried her shorn tresses with her in the shape of an exquisite picture of a harbor, which she carried about with her in her own hair while crossing the Pacific. The necessary relief in the picture was obtained by the use of white hair, for which one of the stewards sacrificed a lock.

Horn That Way

A roustabout on a steamboat had a banjo which he kept picking in a desultory sort of way. Some traveling men were standing around and requested a little music. The roustabout obliged with a couple of numbers, which he performed so badly that one of the group asked him where he learned to play. "I never took no lesson," he replied, with dignity. "I'm just naturally gifted."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Col. Cody's Grave

There is a flat concrete slab over the unpretentious grave of Col. Cody—Buffalo Bill—on top of Lookout Mountain, Colo., and this in turn is covered with ordinary chert and on the center of the slab are hundreds of coins, pennies, nickels, dimes and even larger ones, which the visitors have thrown there. The chicken wire is to prevent anybody from getting the money with a stick. The object of the collection is to build a real monument over the last resting place of Buffalo Bill.

The Meaneest Father

A young man in a northern city believes that he possesses one of the meaneest and most unattractive parents in the world. Recently the old man took a holiday, and in his absence his son secured a contract worth thousands to the firm. He scribbled a triumphant note to his father, but waited in vain for a congratulatory telegram. The next day the old man returned and took up his accustomed place without a word. "I thought my letter would give you a bit of a shock," the young man observed, after hearing the silence as long as he could. "It did that," was the reply. "Ye forgot to stamp it, ye loon, and I'd excess to pay on it."

Good Bookkeeping

A young husband finding that his pretty but extravagant wife was considerably exceeding their income, brought her home one evening a neat little account book, nicely bound, and looking very attractive. This he presented to her, together with a hundred dollars. "Now, my dear," he said, "I want you to put down what I give you on this side, and on the other write down the way it goes, and then I will give you another supply." A couple of weeks later he asked for the book. "O, I have kept the account all right," said the wife, producing the little leather volume; "see here it is," and on one page was inscribed, "Received from a Norman $100," and on the one opposite the comprehensive little summary: "Spent it all."

And the prospects awful grim,
If perplexities keep pressin'
Till hope is nearly gone,
Just bristle up and grin your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.
Frettin' never wins a fight
And fussin' never pays;
There ain't no use in broodin'
In these pessimistic ways;
Smile just kinder cheerfully
Though hope is nearly gone,
And bristle up and grin your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

There ain't no use in growlin'
And grandin' at the time,
When music's ringin' everywhere
And everything's a rhyme.
Just keep on smilin' cheerfully
If hope is nearly gone,
And bristle up and grin your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

RETIREES FROM U. S. CUSTOMS SERVICE

Dr. Stephen C. Bailey of 111 Stevens street, has retired from service in the adjustment and drawback division of the United States customs service in Boston, after spending nearly 29 years in government employ. He was presented a purse of gold by fellow employees on Wednesday, being held in high esteem by all customs service associates. John R. H. Finn made the presentation speech. L. G. Holt, chief clerk of the division, was master of ceremonies. Deputy Collector Roble G. Frye offered congratulations to the Lowell man for his long service and excellent record.

Dr. Bailey is a graduate of Yale, once practiced medicine, later taught school in Lowell just before entering government service.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The usual summer stunt of sending postals while away on vacations is with us again just as strong as ever. I received a card the other day that caused me to smile. It was of the lake and bandstand at Oak Bluffs and I'll bet dollars to doughnuts the view was taken when the placid summer resort on Martha's Vineyard was taken over by the old mayor of Lowell City. I saw this because in the foreground are three members of the fair sex, back to, seated on a settee. From a glance at the hats one can readily tell the picture is of no recent date. On the promenade, in the distance, one can see the vast colored parasols and the long ankle-length or perhaps sole-length, stiff, starched dresses that milady wore on parade in yesteryear.

The many friends of William Canole, former police officer of Dracut, were well pleased with the news published yesterday of his appointment as federal prohibition agent. To Dracut especially, the appointment met with great favor and in police circles in Lowell it was also felt the appointment was well merited. "Bill," as he is known to his friends, was a well-liked "cop" and it is very certain he will be equally well appreciated as a prohibition agent. Kenneth Ward, a floor Canole's special car when a policeman and I have yet to hear of an occasion where he wasn't courteous and generous in the enforcement of the law there.

Do you want to be a king? A job's open for you. Explorers return with news that a ruler is wanted by the kingdom of Gambia at the mouth of the Congo river in Africa. They have a special custom over there of killing the king the first night after initiating him into office. So, no king for many years. Nothing is quite as effective as death. Nature is shrewd in limiting the years we spend on earth. Death is her way of maintaining the balance. It checks the clever brain, cringing into intimacy into nature's secrets. Above all, it makes room for another train load of excursionists—the next generation.

There is much speculation among members of Lowell's traffic squad concerning the arrival of the new kind uniforms. The suits, similar to those worn by the traffic men of Boston, were ordered several weeks ago and the measurement of the prospective wearers taken. At that time, it was expected that they would arrive in a week, but now almost a month has elapsed. During that month considerable hot weather was experienced. The most plausible explanation for the delay seems to be that a strike of Boston garment makers is in progress.

There are 2000 different lines of work that a boy or girl can follow when they strike out into the world for themselves. This figure is unearthed by Dorris Maddow, the vocational guidance expert. Meaning, that she specializes at helping young people select the work they are best fitted for. Two thousand different lines of work mean 2000 different kinds of opportunity. For there is opportunity in every field, always leaders and plenty of room for more.

Blindness comes to relatively few. It depends on nature, ability, education and luck or the law of chance. More than 200 American children were blinded in one or both eyes this year celebrating the Fourth of July with fireworks. So claims National Committee for Prevention of Blindness, after checking up.

It's less than one child out of every 100,000 in the country. No statistics were kept, but years ago the rate was much higher. Safe and sane Fourth was as wise a move as this country ever made.

BISHOP WILL VISIT SUMMER COLONY

CANOBIE LAKE, N. H., Aug. 22—Catholic members of the local summer colony will be visited by the Rt. Rev. Albert Guerin, bishop of Manchester, Sunday afternoon. He will assist at the usual service of benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at the Church of the Immaculate Conception here. It is predicted the bishop will give his sanction to the erection of a new Catholic church at Salem, for which the Rev. T. C. Laughlin, pastor there, who also attends to the spiritual wants of the summer colonists here, has been establishing a fund for some time past. Other prominent clergymen invited include the Rev. Fr. Figue, provincial of the Oblate Fathers, and the Rev. Fr. Kennedy, both of Lowell.

A LAMENT

O World! O Life! O Time!
On whose last steps I climb,
Trembling at that where I had stood before;
When will return the glory of your prime?
No more—oh never more!
Out of the day and night
A joy has taken flight
Fresh spring, and summer, and winter hoar
Move my faint heart with grief, but with delight
No more—oh never more.
—Percy Bysshe Shelley.

LUCK

I haven't much faith in the little word luck, though it's true I may have some some day. I feel that accomplishment's gained when you've stuck to a thing till it comes out your way. The fellow who waits for the gift of the fates often waits till he reaches death's gate. His work's been a drizzle with life just a fizzle because he was willing to wait. If you want a rep you must bring forth your pep; you must always be up and a-doing. You'll feel a heap better if you're a go-getter and always keep something a brewing. The fellow who reaches the top seldom preaches. He uses his head, not his voice. Instead of just blowing he's constantly showing the way to get things of his choice. Don't just be a rover who seeks four-leaf clover. Fight harder whenever you're stuck! You'll find you can do it, if you'll just stick to it, 'cause work works much better than luck. WHEELER TO SPEAK IN MANY N. E. CITIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The La Follette-Wheeler campaign managers are directing their attention to New England and the south.

Coincident with the announcement that Senator Wheeler, of Montana, vice-presidential candidate, after opening the campaign with a Labor Day address in Boston, would speak in Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut before swinging through New York state on a tour westward, comes the statement that a regional headquarters is to be established in the south. The location has not been determined.

Plans for corraling votes in all sections of the country are under discussion at conferences which got under way here yesterday. Tomorrow John M. Nelson, national campaign manager with headquarters at Chicago, will be in Washington. He will discuss the political situation with Senators La Follette and Wheeler, and with the committee which is assisting him in directing the campaign.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets
Help You Gain Strength and Put on Needed
Weight—Great

Nothing like the vitamins in Cod Liver Oil to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

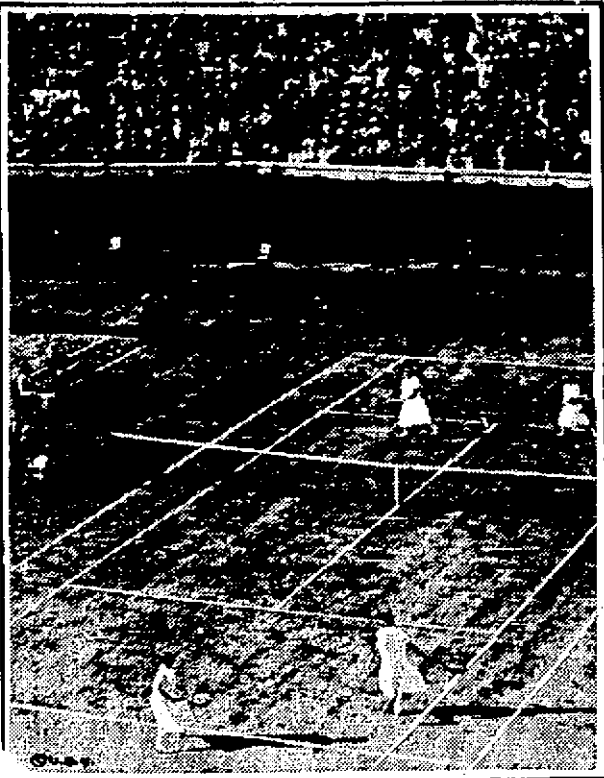

But nobody wants to take the ill-smelling, horrible tasting stomach upsetting oil itself, so nowadays, up to date medical men are ordering a tablet of Cod Liver Oil and it surely does the work.

Ask Green's Drug Store, A. W. Dowd & Co., Fred Howard, or any regular druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets. They are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy. Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on five pounds or over in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist will return your money if you don't take on five pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite—60 tablets, 60 cents.

ACTION IN FINAL DOUBLES

Helen Wills and Mrs. Wightman (at back) are shown during a play in the final doubles at the national tennis championship meet, Forest Hills, N. Y. At the front are Miss Jessup and Miss Goss who lost to the "big two." This match was played after Miss Wills had won the national singles title.

SEMI-FINALS IN THE JACK KEARNS HAS NOSE MIXED DOUBLES MADE OVER

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22.—Women tennis players shared with men today the grand stand courts at the Longwood Cricket club where for 4 days none but men, contesting the national doubles championship, have played. With the finalists in that tournament decided yesterday by the five set victory of Gerald Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, and Robert C. and Howard O. Kinsey of San Francisco. It was decided to put the final match over until tomorrow afternoon.

This left the stage clear for the semi-finals of the national mixed doubles championship, and for the final round of the women's invitation singles tournament. The playing through champions, Mrs. Molla B. Mallory and W. T. Tilden, 2nd, had the team of Mrs. G. W. Wightman and Jean Borotra, the latter captain of the French Davis team, in one semi-final. Miss Helen Wills, national women's singles champion, and Vincent Richards, joint holder of the Olympic doubles crown, were matched against Miss Eleanor Goss and Rene La Costa, another French star, in the other.

The final of the women's singles brought together Miss Goss, number three in national women's ranking, and Helen Jacobs, the girl of 15 years who comes from Berkeley, Calif., like Miss Wills to seek national honors among the girls.

"Take your time," in recent years that has become a big league slogan, particularly as to pitching.

A majority of major league managers have been working on the theory that the pitcher who works slowly is certain to be the more successful.

But it is an easy matter to offer proof directly to the contrary. The system on the part of the pitcher is that the delay upsets the batter, throws him off his stride.

Working on the matter through dilatory methods is possible in many ways.

First the pitcher, after rubbing the ball with his hands, walks around the rubber before getting on the mound, preliminary to receiving the signals.

After the pitcher gets on the rubber the catcher gets in his "dirty work" by being very tardy in giving the signal for the pitch.

In the meantime the batsman, standing in the box, is in anything but a pleasant state of mind. He fuses over the delay, which is the very thought of the tardy methods.

In adopting such tactics the managers have entirely overlooked the feelings of the rubber.

The baseball fans like action and never have approved of dilatory methods on the ball field.

In the American league, games were dragging to such an extent that President Johnson took the matter into his own hands.

American league pitchers must now take the signals while standing on the rubber, in a position to deliver the ball to the batsman.

This eliminates the many minutes lost through the pitcher parading around the rubber between each pitch. Incidentally he cannot go to the ground and soil the ball.

Failure of the pitcher to observe such a system calls for his expulsion from the game.

Since President Johnson put his ultimatum into effect American league games have been speeded up from 15 to 20 minutes.

Managers in an effort to throw the batter off his stride by slow tactics, seem to have overlooked the fact that such methods have the same effect on the rubber.

It is a well-known fact that the fielding is invariably better back of a fast-working pitcher. The fielders seem to absorb the "pepper" of the pitcher.

One need only look over the records to get the proof that the greatest pitchers are almost always fast-working twirlers.

The great Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, in fact, a great majority of the outstanding pitchers of the game, are fast-working.

Looks as if the managers have been "boiling" one from several angles with the "take-your-time" theory.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, yesterday followed the titleholder firm here in the ranks of those who carry made-over noses.

Dempsey's rebuilt nose was still veiled in bandages when Kearns visited a plastic surgeon yesterday and had his straightened, according to star Hollywood specifications.

MORAN-KAPLAN BOUT STOPPED

New Haven Referee Halts Contest in Ninth Round—Made Two Decisions

First Declared Bout "No Contest," Then Proclaimed Kaplan Winner

Moran Claims to Have Injured Hand in Second Round—X-Ray Taken

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22.—Development of X-ray plates made early today of injury to the left hand of Paul Moran of New Orleans, is expected to determine the exact nature of an injury which Dr. Charles P. DeLoe, physician for the boxing board of the town of Hamden, declares Moran suffered during the nine rounds of what was supposed to be a 12-round go with Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., at Welles park, Hamden, last night.

Referee McAllister stopped the fight at the end of the ninth and first announced that the bout was no contest and all bets were off. Then, on advice of Thomas Donahue, chairman of the state boxing commission, McAllister made his way through the milling crowd, re-entered the ring and held up the hand of Kaplan as winner of the bout.

The decision was based on the claim of the head of the state boxing commission that Moran was not trying. The huge crowd was not trying. The huge crowd was not trying. The huge crowd was not trying.

Moran, having previously voiced their displeasure at Moran's poor showing, Kaplan plainly had the advantage throughout the nine rounds.

The members of the Hamden and state boxing commission started an investigation of the fight early today and some announcement was expected from them during today. Award of the money of the two contestants was held up pending a decision.

After an examination of Moran's left hand at the New Haven hospital following the fight, Dr. DeLoe announced that a laceration in the wrist was torn and that in his opinion Moran would be unable to box again for at least a month.

Moran claims to have injured his hand in the second round in stopping one of Kaplan's right swings. Though warned by the referee that he was not doing his best, he said he decided to continue at a disadvantage.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—One of the most unusual causes of death was pronounced by city medical authorities today as having been found in a posthumous examination of Mrs. Mark Warlock Liberman, a Polish actress, who came here from Independence, Mo., a few years ago to enter the theatrical profession.

The young woman was found to be a user of a narcotic by Dr. Alexander O. Goettler, city toxicologist, after other medical examiners pronounced death due to heart disease, while she was bathing.

Dr. Goettler found a small quantity of water in the heart, beside proof that the young woman used a narcotic. From this he established the conclusion that she had been temporarily overcome by the drug and fallen until her head was submerged causing her to take water into the lungs.

PRINCE OF WALES SAILS TOMORROW FOR U. S.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The Prince of Wales has packed his trunks, bid good-bye to his cronies and, with the exception of a few official matters to be attended to today, is ready to hand over his tickets to the purser of the Herengaria which will leave tomorrow from Southampton to take him on his second visit to the United States.

Wales' trip this time will lack the exclusiveness of his first visit, which was made in a British man-of-war, for the capacity of the Herengaria has been used by debtors who for various reasons are cutting off their European trips to hurry homeward on this particular liner.

Complete Brewery Seized by Providence Police in Raid
Last Night

Four Vats, Four Stills, 11
Barrels and 8000 Bottles of Beer Seized

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 21.—In a drive to "dry up" Federal Hill, the Italian colony, police squads last night raided an establishment on Dean street, which they declared was a complete brewery. Four vats, four stills and 11 barrels of beer were seized, in addition to 8000 bottles of beer. Federal prohibition agents took over the property, as the local police lack confiscatory powers under the state law.

Chief of Police O'Neill said: "The hill was dry last night for the first time since prohibition was enacted. This place was the principal source of supply."

Prohibition Officials at Providence to Dispose of Guns,
Rifles and Ammunition

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 21.—Prohibition officials here are working on the problem of disposing of machine guns, revolvers, high powered rifles, sawed-off shotguns and thousands of rounds of ammunition that has been collected here the past two years following the arrest of rum runners and high-jackers. More than 150 weapons of all descriptions are to be disposed of.

FOR SLENDER WOMEN

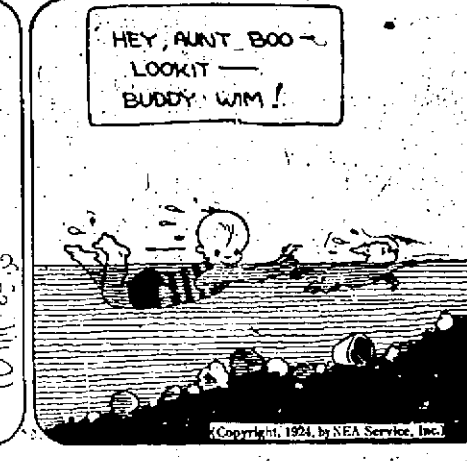

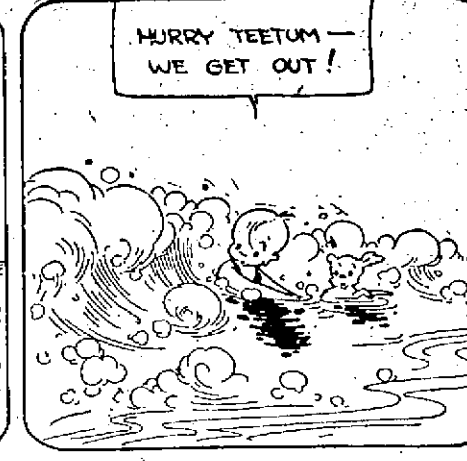

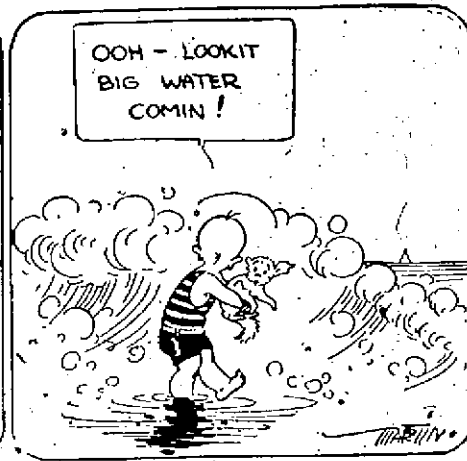

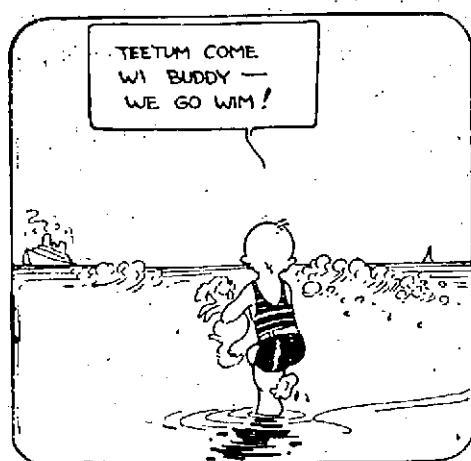

This frock should interest only slender women, since it would be effective only on the curvaceous figure. But given such a figure the result is extremely effective. The collar may be worn closed or open to reveal a V neck. The extreme slimness of the frock is emphasized by the row of bone buttons which begins under the arm and ends only when the skirt does. The material is a shimmering green cloth with a dyed finish and the fur used is a dyed squirrel.

DR. MOORE FOUND SHOT THROUGH HEAD

DANVERS, Mass., August 21.—Dr. Charles S. Moore, a veterinary surgeon, was found shot through the head with a revolver near his body at his office here today. The police said Moore had been in ill health and probably committed suicide. He leaves a widow and two sons.

COMMUNIST OUTBREAK FORCES SUSPENSION OF FRENCH CHAMBER

Pres. Painleve Puts on Hat and Walks Out When
M. Marty Ignored Warnings—Latter Declares "All the Ministers Are Filthy Scoundrels"

PARIS, August 21.—A violent display by the communists forced Paul Painleve, president of the chamber, to suspend the sitting after Premier Herriot had finished his statement today. M. Marty's language had been so unrestrained that Mr. Painleve had at various times warned him, but when finally he produced the communists' amnesty poster and waved it from the rostrum, M. Painleve put on his hat, signifying the session was at an end.

The communist deputy then started to scale the secretary's desk and to occupy the speaker's vacant chair, but the ushers prevented this move in time and hastily evacuated the chamber and its galleries while the extreme radicals kept on crying "anarchy."

The phrase which made M. Painleve suspend the sitting was Marty's shouted declaration: "All the ministers are filthy scoundrels."

TAXI-DRIVERS HELD IN GIRL'S DEATH

MIAMI, OKLAHOMA, Aug. 21.—Robert Hanna, 24, and Frank Rowden, 21, taxicab drivers of Fletcher, Oklahoma, were held here today in connection with the death of Miss Florence Barton, Kansas City society girl, who was slain under mysterious circumstances several years ago.

A third man, giving his name as Marvin Wright, is under arrest at Joplin, Mo., according to information received by authorities here.

TO BRING KLANSMAN TO JUSTICE IN VERMONT

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 21.—Extradition papers are being filed out in Burlington today for the return of William Moyers, now in New Market, Tenn., who is charged with burglary at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception here on the night of Aug. 3 and State's Attorney Horton said today it is likely that either he or Attorney General Archibald would go to Tennessee for the purpose of bringing Moyers to justice in Vermont.

Moyers, it is understood, will fight extradition procedure despite the fact that he had been named the instigator of the burglary here by William McCready and Gordon Wells who have been arrested and confessed to the charge.

SHOE COMPANY RESTORES 10 PER CENT CUT

STOUGHTON, Aug. 21.—The Sells Shoe company of this town announced today a restoration of the 10 per cent cut put into effect Aug. 4.

Leonard Sells of the firm declared that inasmuch as the Brockton district wage question is to be settled by the state board of arbitration, the firm would await their decision, the four of the firm's employees struck the plant when the original cut went into effect.

SAYS KID MCCOY SUFFERING FROM PARETIC—A FORM OF DEMENTIA

Death on Gallows or Living Death of Paralysis and
Total Dementia Today Appeared All That Was
Left for Once Dapper Prince of the Ring

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Death on the gallows or the living death of paralysis and total dementia today appeared all that was left for Kid McCoy, once dapper prince of the ring, charged with the murder of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors here Aug. 12.

The prisoner's eighth wife, Dagmar Dahlgren, denied his defense a blow when she repudiated a previous alibi volunteered to show he could not have been guilty of the murder.

Then an attorney sent into his cell by defense attorneys reported that even if McCoy could prove his innocence he would fall victim within three years to a complete paralysis and total dementia.

The alibi, Dr. Cecil Reynolds, said McCoy is "without question" suffering from paresis—a form of dementia due to organic changes of the brain and brought on in his case by excessive addiction to alcohol and a blood infection of long standing.

The alibi which Miss Dahlgren repudiated when questioned by the district attorney was to the effect that she had been spying on Mrs. Mors and McCoy, saw McCoy leave the death apartment shortly before the shooting, saw a "black" man arrive, heard an argument and a shot and then saw the "black" man depart.

With the annihilation of this alibi the testimony of Mrs. Mors, who insists she heard and saw two men fleeing from the apartment after the shooting and that one of them was Albert Mors, former husband of Mrs. Mors, still remains on which to base a theory of the slaying which might exonerate McCoy. Police, however, insist Mrs. Mors could not possibly have seen Mors fleeing from the apartment, since they know he was elsewhere at that hour.

Meanwhile federal investigators continue to trace the origin and channels of entry into the United States of a fortune in precious stones said to have been in the possession of Mors or his divorced wife at the time of her death. Two seizures of gems from Mrs. Mors' safety deposit boxes have already been made, and another lot of jewels was recovered when Mrs. Jennie Thomas, sister of McCoy, turned them over to the district attorney with the explanation that her brother left them with her the night of Mrs. Mors' death.

Mrs. Mors, charged they were stripped from his divorced wife after she was slain.

The body of Mrs. Mors today was to begin his way to New York where it will rest in a grave provided by her parents.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

More Alleged "Drunken Driver" Cases Called Today—Other Cases Heard

In dealing with two alleged "drunken driver" cases in district court this morning, Judge Earlight refused to grant continuances until next month, but granted continuances to Aug. 28 and 30, saying that it was his intention to have all such cases, if appealed, reach the superior court for the September term.

Today's cases involved Michael J. Frendergast of West Somerville, who was arrested last night by Patrolman Thomas B. Riley, and Eugene A. Pournier of this city, who was arrested about a week ago. Both pleaded not guilty.

Cross charges of assault and battery, involving Daniel E. Callahan and Edgar F. Twombly of Billerica, were continued to next Monday.

Roland Appleton, who was brought back to this city from Lynn by Officer Matthew McCann yesterday afternoon, was found guilty of non support and was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction on condition that he pay $10 a week to the probation officer to be turned over to his wife.

John F. Murphy appealed a sentence to the state farm for drunkenness.

James Flannery, drunkenness, was continued until tomorrow.

WILL DONATE CARS FOR CHILDREN'S OUTING

Announcement was made today by a member of the children's outing committee of Lowell Lodge of Elks that the street railway company will provide transportation to and from the outing free of charge and that the blue uniform employees of the company have also donated their services as operators of these cars.

Plans for the outing, which will be held at Alumni Field next Monday, are practically complete and it is expected that at least 4000 "kiddies" will be guests of local Elks on that occasion.

Between 20 and 30 extra cars will be necessary to provide transportation for this number. To live these cars would have made the cost of the outing very high but through the courtesy of Manager Maurice McGinnis and Supl. Thomas J. Sayers of the street railway company and officials of the street railway men's union, the use and operation of the cars is promised at no cost to the Elks.

Every precautionary measure will be taken to provide for the safety of the children while they are under the care of the Elks. A large number of police officers and firemen will be on duty at the park during the outing and it is understood that many officers and firemen will be off duty Monday have volunteered their services.

contracts or in writing public laws.

"It is the treating of all classes and all sections of the country on an equal basis. It is the avoidance of secrecy and whispering and sharp practice in the management of public affairs. Men love darkness rather than light only when their deeds are evil. Whether in Washington or out of it we will have no invisible advisers in our party councils, no alliance with any of those who work in secret for secret ends."

Mr. Davis told his audience that this was only one of the points on which the republican and democratic parties differ, and he promised that as the campaign proceeded some of the points already clear would become "plainer still."

"They outwardly deplore special privilege, except in the sacred guise of a protective tariff," he said. "We oppose it in this and every other form. They believe, or pretend to believe, that agriculture should be on an economic basis with other industries. They have no plans to this end, but the appointment of a committee to investigate, and advise that the farmer provide himself with leaders not interested in politics. We think that the first step to economic equality is to deprive others of their unjust advantage."

"They are content to conduct the foreign affairs of the United States through private citizens, unofficially observing. We think America is great enough to speak in her own name."

"They propose now, after nearly four years of absolute inaction, to enroll the United States as a member of the court of international justice. We promise to do so as soon as power is in our hands."

"They present a party made up of a president fleeing in one direction, a congress in another and the rank and file scattered in between. We have a harmonious army, officers and privates marching to a common end."

Guest of Gov. Silzer

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 22.—Here, where Woodrow Wilson received his first call to lead the democracy of the nation, John W. Davis began his fight to again wrest control of the government from the republican party.

Mr. Davis' first message to the democratic state committee at a luncheon given by Gov. Silzer, his address there was informal, although he promised the leaders of his party that his campaign would be conducted without gloves.

Mr. Davis' principal address was at Camp Silzer at the luncheon. He was to be presented to the democracy of New Jersey by Gov. Silzer, whose guest he became at "the little white house" upon his arrival here last night from New York.

MAN ARRESTED FOR PRAYING IN CEMETERY

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Sam Gilden, forty-nine, was before Magistrate Miller in Jamaica court yesterday in a disorderly conduct charge.

"What did he do?" asked Magistrate Miller of Mortimer Gold, the complainant.

"Prayed in a cemetery," replied Gold.

"What did he pray for?" asked the court.

"For money," answered the complainant.

Gold said he is superintendent of the Bayside cemetery, near Wood Haven, and Gilden was soliciting jobs at praying over graves and found a couple of customers. It is against the law to pray in a graveyard without a license, it was explained.

LINER MAJESTIC RUNS AGROUND, REFLOATED

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The giant steamship Majestic, in-bound from New York, grounded on a sandbank at the entrance to Southampton water at low tide this afternoon, but was refloated with the aid of two tugs a short time afterward and proceeded to Southampton.

WAS FINED $150 FOR ILLEGAL KEEPING

George Stampan of Front street, was fined $150 in district court this morning, when he was found guilty of illegally keeping liquor for sale. His property was raised yesterday afternoon by Officers Aldrich, Tilton, Kilroy and Leachy of the liquor squad, who encountered opposition in the person of defendant's step-daughter, Helen Kueznarski, with the result that she also was arrested on a charge of interference. Her case has been continued to next Friday.

When officers entered Stampan's house, seven men were gathered around a table and two of them were drinking. All scattered on sight of the officers, but the girl maintained her courage and attempted to strike Officer Aldrich with a tonic case. Her effort was frustrated, however, and she was placed under arrest when she persisted in interrupting the officers in their search.

The same officers, with Patrolmen John Gandy and John Kelley, conducted a second raid in Second street yesterday and arrested Antonio Siva. He was arraigned on an illegal keeping charge today and on a plea of not guilty he was continued to September 5. At this place, the officers seized 27 quarts of alleged moonshine and a 15-gallon still.

KHAKI UNIFORMS FOR TRAFFIC SQUAD

The new khaki uniforms for Lowell's traffic squad arrived at the police station this morning from the office of the manufacturer, Harding Uniform Co., of Boston. The officers will probably don them tomorrow.

Sergeant Hugh Angulo, acting supervisor of traffic, in discussing the traffic problem this morning, stated that he favors the plan of the Boston police authorities of introducing uniform traffic signals for all officers. Were such methods adopted uniformly, he said, much confusion would be eliminated, and would benefit automobilists and tourists alike.

People cannot begin to consider the problems the local police have to contend with in regulating traffic, the sergeant says. The lack of parallel streets in the downtown sections of the city makes it extremely difficult to regulate traffic out of the congested areas as other cities have done. With a little more co-operation between motorists, pedestrians and traffic officers, the traffic situation, he believes, will be greatly remedied.

Plans Complete for Picturesque Affair to Be Held in Memorial Hall—Matinee and Evening Performance —Complete Cost Was Made Known Today

Plans are complete for the gigantic and picturesque pageant "A Trip to the Isle of Dolls" to be presented next Thursday afternoon and evening in Lowell Memorial Auditorium by the children of the playgrounds of Lowell. The presentation of this magnificent pageant will mark the formal ending of the 1924 summer playground program conducted under the auspices of the municipal park department.

The matinee performance will be given at 2 o'clock. In the afternoon and the staging of the stupendous spectacle will require a full two and a half hours. The evening performance will commence promptly at 8 o'clock. The pageant is expected to eclipse by far the superb entertainment and dramatization which marked the "Pageant of Nations" so lavishly and entertainingly given by the children a year ago.

The work of putting on the great annual affair is under the competent direction of Arthur C. Sullivan, director of all municipal playground work. He has been assisted in the many details in connection therewith, including the publicity work in advance of the showing, by Miss Mary A. Dowd, supervisor of playgrounds. Mr. Sullivan has spared no effort to make certain that the presentation this year will more than live up to the promise of the pageant which has been given in advance notices of the many playground workers who have made charges carefully in accordance with the plans outlined by him.

The coaching has been both recreational and disciplinary, giving to the children a decided training that is certain to ever be an asset. Various playground teachers have variously wholeheartedly into the spirit of the vast amount of work involved in preparing their charges and through their co-operation a most effective and pleasing pageant is certain to be the outcome.

For the first time the complete cast of the pageant and the personnel of the various well-drilled dancing teams whose offerings will feature the affairs, follows:

Harlequins—Coached by Miss Martha Gallagher, Greenhalge school. Boys: Lenora Dube, Helen Harvey, Helene, Anne, Annette, Margaret, Christina Duffy, Gertrude, Jeanette, Louise, Ellen Fennell, Anna Fitzpatrick, Juliet Lussier, Hilda Larkin.

Sunbonnet dolls—Coached by Miss Helen Munn, Varnum school—Marie Grondall, Elizabeth Shannon, Irene Boyd, Anna Wren, Elizabeth Riordan, Stella Duncanson, Rita McGowan, Virginia Strull.

French dolls—Coached by Miss Sadie Melancon, Aiken playground—Leda Hubert, Lillian Broutelle, Anita Hubert, Robertine Chouinard, Diana Hubert, Armande Dallargone, Violet Perigny, Cecile Bouque.

Specialty dance—(a) Fox trot; (b) hesitation waltz, by Lillian and Ernest Broutelle.

Tin soldiers—Coached by Miss Agnes Dudley, Greenhalge school—Captain, Miss Helen Dudley; drummers, Helen McNeilly, Catherine Cleary; flag bearers, Germaine Dign, and soldiers, Soldiers—Miss Sullivan, Lucy Robbins, Dorothy Bourke, Eileen Greeley, Rita Chouinard, May Wing, Lucille Chenevert, Pearl Wood, Margaret Hoar, Josephine Cox, Margaret Johnston, Julia Tully. Specialty—Russian doll, Helen Clifford.

Dutch Doll—Coached by Miss Anna Byrne, O'Connor playground—Esther Ryne, Clara Bradley, Harriet Sherry, Anna Jurek, Dorothy Cassin, Mary Clarke, Eleanor Gendreau, Helen Donohoe, Dorothy Kennedy, Alice Gendreau.

Colonial Doll—Coached by Miss Lil-

NEW LIST OF PRECINCT OFFICERS GIVEN OUT AT CITY HALL

Board of Election Commissioners Make Known New List—Of the Changes Appearing 28 Are of Democratic Officers—Some Changes Due to Deaths

The board of elections commissioners today made known the new list of precinct election officers for 1924-1925, there being about 34 changes as compared with the list of 1923-1924. Of these most are of democratic officers and the remainder, less than half a dozen, are republicans. Of the 248 officers the changes affect between 7 and 8 percent.

Chairman Hugh McOsker said this noon that many of the changes are due to deaths or removals from wards, none being due to resignations. In some wards and in several precincts there are no changes whatever from the old list, he stated. Notifications will be sent those on the lists in the early part of next week.

The new list, official and complete, follows:

JOHN W. DAVIS FLAYS KLAN IN SPEECH AT SEA GIRT, N. J.

Calls Upon Pres. Coolidge to Make Explicit Declaration and Join With Him in Entirely Removing Klan Issue From Field of Political Debate

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 22.—Calling the Ku Klux Klan by name, John W. Davis, democrat presidential nominee, declared in an address here today, that this organization or any other which raises the standard of racial or religious prejudices "must be condemned by all those who believe as I do in American ideals."

Having thus made his own position clear, Mr. Davis expressed the hope that President Coolidge, as the republican presidential candidate, would say, "by some explicit declaration," to join with him in entirely removing the Klan issue from the field of political debate.

Mr. Davis said these matters "must not be permitted to divert the attention of the public from the vital questions now before them and added that the Klan issue had no proper part in this or any other campaign."

The democratic nominee's declaration with respect to the Klan, was prepared after his arrival here and was made at the conclusion of his set address, the second in his campaign.

"There is one other word I wish to say. It concerns a matter that has

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN TAKEN FROM CANAL

The body of an unidentified man, believed to be a resident of Whitinsville, Mass., was taken from the Hamilton canal along Jackson street about 7.30 o'clock this morning.

From appearances, the body had been in the water for a long time, decomposition making identification difficult. The remains were removed to the undertaking establishment of William A. Mack in Gorham street.

The discovery of the body was made by employees on their way to work in the Hamilton mill. Mill officials were notified and the police called. In a pocket of the dead man's clothing was found an eye-glass case, bearing the name and address of Frank A. Fairbanks, Central building, Church street, Whitinsville, Mass.

There were no marks on the body that would lead the police to suspect foul play, and no money was found in the clothing, which resembled that of a laborer.

He is described as a middle-aged man, 5 feet, 5 inches in height, smooth face, and weighs about 165 pounds.

The police have endeavored to communicate with the address found on his person, but have been unable to procure any clue as to his identity.

Hazardous Jump of 825 Miles From Iceland Negotiated Without Mishap

ABOARD UNITED STATES CRUISER RICHMOND, ON PATROL BETWEEN ICELAND AND GREENLAND, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Rear-Admiral Magruder has ordered the United States cruisers Richmond and Raleigh and the destroyer Barry to make a search east of Cape Farewell, Greenland, for Lieutenant Lockie, Italian aviator, who failed to arrive at Greenland with the American round-the-world fliers.

The search will be made in planes carried by the cruisers for scouting purposes and will be continued indefinitely.

Arrive on Schedule Time
REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The American round-the-world fliers, winging their way yesterday afternoon and evening from Reykjavik, Iceland, to Fredericksdal, Greenland, a distance of 825 miles where they arrived last night, passed the United States cruiser Richmond and the United States destroyers Reid, Billingsley and Barry on schedule.

LOWELL MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO

Edward O'Neil of Agawam Street in Serious Condition at St. John's Hospital as Result of Automobile Accident in Billerica This Morning

Edward O'Neil of 65 Agawam street, is on the dangerous list in St. John's hospital suffering with a possible fracture of the skull and other serious injuries as the result of being struck and run down by an automobile owned and operated by Arthur B. Hall of 83 Pine Ridge street, Waban. The accident happened in a peculiar manner on the State highway in Billerica, near the Ever-Ready Filling station, this morning. According to Chief Henry D. Livingston and Officer William O'Brien of the Billerica police, who investigated the accident, O'Neil alighted from the rear of a large truck operated by Benjamin Sylvia of 15 Penman street, and stepped directly in the path of the Hall machine, which was following closely in the same direction. His unexpected action took Hall unawares and he was unable to bring his car, a Willis-St. Claire coach, to a stop before hitting O'Neil.

One of the wheels of the pleasure car passed over O'Neil's leg. The Lowell city ambulance was called and the injured man was rushed to St. John's hospital, where an X-ray picture was taken to determine the extent of his injuries. The result of the X-ray was not known at an early hour this afternoon, but hospital authorities stated that the man's condition was serious.

The truck and the pleasure car were proceeding in the direction of Boston when the accident occurred. Mr. Hall had as passengers in his car, William A. Quigley of 53 State street, Boston, and Almon E. Greenleaf of 41 Mt. Vernon street, Boston. Although the machine suffered a damaged right mudguard and broken headlights, none of its occupants was hurt.

DEFENSE OPENS ATTACK ON STATE'S PLEA FOR DEATH OF YOUTHS

Atty. Darrow, Veteran Chief Counsel for Leopold and Loeb, Takes Up His Part of Summing Up Arguments Before Judge Caverly.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The forensic heavy artillery attack on the state's plea for death for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb for murdering Robert Franks was expected to be reached today, when Clarence Darrow, veteran chief defense counsel, takes up his part of the summing up arguments before Judge John R. Caverly. It is probable his address will consume the balance of the week.

A change in plans by attorneys for the youths brought Mr. Darrow's address after the completion of the opening arguments for their side by Walter Backus, who began yesterday. His brother Benjamin will conclude the defense pleas for mitigation of punishment based on a "degree of mental disease less than insanity."

The final summing up of the prosecution by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, will come after the defense has concluded, only next week. Then Judge Caverly has indicated, he will take several days to weigh the testimony.

BODY OF MAN IN TIN BOX

Disembodied Body of Aged New York Manufacturer Found By Police

In Shell Sealed Corrugated Tin Box in Cellar of Greenwich Village Dwelling

NEW YORK, August 22.—The partially disembodied body of Aaron A. Graft, 72, a radio cabinet manufacturer, who disappeared on August 1, was found by police today in a shell sealed corrugated tin box in the cellar of a Greenwich Village dwelling.

The discovery was made after Louth stumbled into a police station and told officers that the woman, a vaudeville actress of Binghamton, was dead after a drinking bout and a plunge down the stairs. Near the body was a broken arm of a chair which police seized as the possible weapon with which Mrs. Bauman was beaten to death.

Police are inclined to doubt Louth's story, believing the wounds on the body of Mrs. Bauman were of such nature that would not be suffered in a fall.

SUMMER IN MARS SIX WEEKS FROM NOW

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Scientists and astronomers here are frankly skeptical regarding chances of ascertaining more knowledge of Mars tonight when the planet gets nearer the earth than it was a month ago or will be a month hence.

The best chances of observation will come six weeks from now, according to Professor Philip Fox of the astronomy department of Northwestern University. Then it will be summer in Mars and the snow caps will have melted, he said.

The approach of Mars was not considered of much importance by Edwin B. Frost, director of Yerkes observatory, University of Wisconsin. He labeled it ridiculous to ask radio stations to give up their programs tonight to listen for any messages from the planet.

Fine a License to Bootlegger opening a conference of the district attorneys which he called to discuss enforcement of the prohibition laws. Setting forth the specific means by which he held stricter enforcement may be brought about, he said: "I ask your co-operation, first, to secure speedy trial and punishment. That is, the greatest deterrent of crime, and it explains why England has in proportion to population about two per cent of the murders we have in America.

"Second, to secure prison sentences instead of fines. To a bootlegger or a brewer a fine is merely a kind of license to keep on breaking the law. Nine times out of ten he writes it off as profit and loss, and goes right ahead with his law-breaking."

"Third, to make full use of the injunction to close up places where the law is violated."

"When the police, both state and local, the district attorneys and the courts work together in full co-operation for speedy and vigorous law enforcement our troubles will be over."

The governor said the people of this state and of the entire country are face to face "with the vital need for suppressing a dangerous attack upon the constitution and laws of the United States," which he declared is made "from the lowest motives and has behind it every corrupt and criminal force in every community."

of Roy L. Schultz, is held for investigation. The writer of the extortion note who signed himself Dr. Hans Kopf, after stating in his letter that he was possessed of degrees of bacteriology from German universities, wrote that he and four other men of similar education, were desirous of advancing their studies in science, but had no means with which to accomplish this aim.

Accordingly, the letter stated, Uhllein and one hundred other citizens of the United States had been selected to contribute to forward the cause of education in the manner named. The terms, the letter stated, could be counteracted and their effect made harmless by other germs to be furnished if the deposit of money were made according to directions.

Police went to a place designated in the letter with a decoy package and the arrest followed.

Big Hop Made on Schedule Time

«Wonderful», Says Martin
BELINGHAM, Wash., Aug. 22.—Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States army round-the-world aerial armada, before his flag plane, Seattle, crashed into a mountain on the Alaska peninsula, 100 miles from Chignik, putting him out of the flight, declared that the flight today of the American aviators from Iceland to Greenland was "wonderful." "I feel glad to hear that my troubles with the ice floes are nearly over," he added.

Congratulations from MacLaren
VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 22.—Major A. Stuart MacLaren, leader of an unsuccessful British attempt to fly around the world, has sent a message of congratulation to Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States army globe-circling expedition, and his companions, at Greenland, on the successful hop from Iceland to Greenland.

Weather conditions in the early stages of the flight were favorable, with good visibility and a helping wind, but as the straits neared Cape Farewell at the southern tip of Greenland, they had to cut their way through a mist and a drizzling rain.

In a mist, they apparently missed the United States cutter, Raleigh, which was stationed off the cape, and which reported that she had not sighted the fliers.

Previous to the Richmond, held, Billingsley and Barry had sighted them, passing each ship on schedule time, and flying low over the ice, the hazardous hop from Iceland to Greenland, arriving safely tonight at Frederiksdal, their goal near Cape Farewell, on the southern tip of the Greenland coast.

Lieutenant Lowell Smith, commander of the flight, landed at 4:10 p. m. and Lieutenant Erik Nelson at 7:15. The airman left here at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Italian aviator, who left Reykjavik with Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. Erik H. Nelson yesterday morning, and who, in a faster plane than those used by the Americans, had outdistanced them in the earlier stages of the hop to Greenland, was not mentioned in the message reporting the arrival of the Americans at Frederiksdal.

With the sanction of the Italian government he had flown alone from Pisa, Italy, to Iceland, taking advantage in the hop from England of the facilities which previously had been granted to the American fliers.

He had been offered him by the American authorities.

FUNERALS
CAFFERY—The funeral of Miss Helen Caffery took place yesterday afternoon from the Old Ladies Home, 620 Pleasant street, at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Leslie C. Boakes, pastor of the Church of All Nations. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Burial took place in the Forest Grove cemetery where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Boakes. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

GILBERT—The funeral of Joseph Gilbert, son of Joseph and Catherine (Dunn) Gilbert, took place yesterday from the home of his parents, 155 Hall street, at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Boakes. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

AGGAR—The funeral of Joseph V. Aggar took place this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of his parents, Vincent and Maria Souza Aggar, 47 Davis street. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

HODGE—The funeral of Mrs. Annie M. (Feeley) Hodge, widow of William A. Hodge, and formerly of 19 years a resident of Lowell, took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Davis, Brookfield, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church, this city, where, at 9:15 o'clock, a funeral high mass was celebrated. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

WARNING FOR TRAFFIC

LAW VIOLATORS
More than two hundred motorists have been warned of their violation of the city traffic ordinance since the campaign to enforce the parking provisions of this ordinance was started on Tuesday of this week. The names of these motorists are in possession of the police and further violation of the law will result in their appearance in district court.

Sergeant Hugh Maguire, in charge of the traffic squad during the enforcement drive, said today the enforcement drive was meeting with considerable success, and that the police were receiving considerable cooperation in their work from automobile owners.

The enforcement drive at the present time is being carried on mainly in the heart of the business district and the street which are being watched carefully are Merrimack, Central, Prescott, John and Bridge.

The ordinance under which the police are now operating was accepted by the city government in July, 1918, and has been amended several times since then.

Under the provisions of this ordinance, parking is prohibited in the square, in Merrimack street for a distance of 75 feet eastwardly from Central street, in Central street for a like distance from Merrimack and in Middlesex street from the railroad crossing to Howard street.

A parking limit of 5 minutes is the rule in the following streets: Merrimack eastwardly from Dutton to within 75 feet of Central; Central street except where parking is prohibited in Church; Gosham from Middlesex to Winter; Bridge from the "one-way" to Central; Prescott, except for the sections where parking is prohibited; John from Merrimack to Paige.

DEATHS
CHAPLIN—Orlando P. Chaplin, a resident of Dracut for the past 45 years, died yesterday at his home in Nashua road in that town, aged 72 years. He was the husband of Mrs. Mary Chaplin, both of Dracut, and two sisters and one grandchild.

AGGAR—Joseph V. Aggar, aged 60 years, died of phthisis and Mark Souza Aggar, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents, 47 Davis street.

HANNAFORD—Mrs. Ella F. Hannaford, wife of Walter Hannaford, died yesterday at her home in Nashua road, after a long illness. She had been a resident of the town for over 25 years and for nine years served as matron of the town farm. Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lillian E. McMaster; two sons, Frank N. Hannaford, superintendent of the town farm, and Leroy Hannaford, five grandchildren, and a half-brother, Daniel Bird of Carlisle.

WILEY—Mrs. Mary J. (Burke) Wiley, a former well-known pianist of Lowell and Westford, but for the past several years a resident of Cuttingsville, Vt., died yesterday at her home there after an illness of a few months. Of a genial personality, she was well and favorably known in this city, and her passing will cause much regret among her many friends. She leaves her husband, Clarence J. Wiley, and three sons, John T. Kelley, and Mrs. J. Eugene Gordon of Lowell, and Mrs. George A. Morris of North Chelmsford, and one brother, George H. Wiley, of Westford. The body will arrive in this city Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock and will be taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. John T. Kelley, 11 Bond st.

LAPORTE—Mrs. Florence (Dehant) Laporte, wife of Joseph Laporte, died early this morning at her home, 67 Ford street, after an illness of only a few hours' duration. She was 58 years of age. Besides her husband, who leaves one son, William Laporte, of Lowell, and two daughters, Mrs. Caroline Lambert and Mrs. Celine Desrosiers, both of Canada; two brothers, Maximo of Vermont and Alexis Dehant of Canada.

GARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses shown to us in our recent bereavement in the loss of our dear husband and father. Thanking all who sent floral tributes or spiritual bouquets. We will ever hold them in remembrance.

MRS. GEORGE H. COSGROVE, MRS. MARY COSGROVE AND FAMILY, MRS. MARGARET SMITH AND FAMILY, MRS. MYRA KENNEDY AND FAMILY, CHRISTOPHER COSGROVE AND FAMILY.

MASS NOTICE
COSGROVE.—There will be a mass of requiem for George H. Cosgrove at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning at St. Rita's church.

Requested by THE LEATHER WORKERS' UNION.

A SAVING WAGE
Boston Mayor Principal Speaker at Legion Convention in Pittsfield

Calls Federal Bonus Bill Unsatisfactory — Election of Officers Tomorrow

PITTSFIELD, Aug. 22.—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, was the principal speaker at the annual convention of the Massachusetts department of the American Legion here this morning. He attacked the federal bonus bill, claiming that the former service men will not receive the money as quickly by that arrangement as they should. He advocated the paying of a saving wage.

A clumbersome is on the program for tonight. Delegates to the convention also will attend an Eastern League baseball game this afternoon.

The election of officers will take place tomorrow. John W. Roth of Rockville, former first vice-commander, and Leo M. Harlow of Boston are to be the principal candidates for commanders to succeed Major Clarence H. Edwards who has declined to run again.

LOWELL MAN DIES AT

SALISBURY BEACH
Diozoumes Koumoriandoras, a well-known candle manufacturer of this city and a resident of 236 Salem street died suddenly, yesterday afternoon at Salisbury beach, where he was spending a short vacation with his family.

Koumoriandoras joined his family at the beach yesterday morning and shortly after his arrival there went in swimming. He left the water at about 11 o'clock and at noon complained of feeling ill. He collapsed early in the afternoon and a Lawrence doctor who was at the beach was called in to attend him. He failed to rally and died at about 4 o'clock. Death was due to natural causes.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Peter and Paul Koumoriandoras, all of this city. The body was removed to this city last evening by Undertakers Regnier and Regnier.

COUPLE HELD IN $45,000

"Red" Sweeney and Woman
Said to Be His Wife, Arrested After Struggle

Stolen Jewelry Found in Boston Hotel Room Occupied
By Couple

BOSTON, August 22.—Characterized by police as a "most dangerous person" and one who should not be allowed his freedom except under heavy bonds, Joseph E. ("Red") Sweeney of Charlestown, arrested in company with a woman claiming to be Mrs. Naomi Sweeney, his wife, at the Hotel Alphonse, early yesterday morning, was arraigned later in the day in municipal court before Judge David A. Laurie. He was held in bonds of $30,000 for a hearing next Thursday, while his wife was bound to the amount of $15,000 on an accessory charge.

Sweeney and his wife were arrested in their room on the third floor of the Hotel Alphonse, 331 Tremont street. Their apprehension was preceded by a heated argument in which the pair were prominent late Wednesday night. About 11 p. m. Wednesday, the couple, with two men, were talking near the Broadway parking space.

Officer Coleman Morrison of the La-grange Street station, who was near by, was attracted by the loud talk and heated words of the participants. The quarrel became intense and he decided that the group should be dispersed. Going forward the officer ordered the quartet to break up.

Two of the men went in one direction, while Sweeney and his woman companion went to the hotel, closely followed by the policeman. Morrison communicated with Sergeant Edward A. Ryan and the two officers, armed with a warrant, went to Sweeney's room. Receiving no reply to a demand to open up, the officers broke in the door. As they entered Sweeney leaped from the bed and a lively tussle was in progress. The combined strength of the policemen proved too much and Sweeney was subdued. His companion also was taken into custody.

Found Clothing and Jewelry
Searching the room, the police found four suitcases filled with up-to-date sport suits for men and women, silk shirts and high grade lingerie. They also found a sawed-off shotgun under the bed and a .38 calibre revolver, both loaded.

Continuing the hunt, Sergeant Ryan and Officer Morrison found a hotel safe in progress. These looked suspicious, and on unrolling their jewelry valued at $4500 was revealed. Included in this loot were 42 gold watches, 30 gold chains, 94 rings of different styles, 34 stickpins, four lockets, 21 pairs of cuff links, a Knight of Pythias chain, a fourth degree K. of C. chain and 48 stones of various types, including diamonds.

Sweeney and his wife were taken to Station 4 and booked as suspicious persons. Officers immediately started a checkup of recent breaks, and in a short time communicated with Abraham M. Sonnabend, manager of the Massachusetts Avenue Loan company, 259 Massachusetts avenue, Back Bay, who had been held up and robbed on Tuesday morning at 9.45 o'clock.

Sonnabend went to the station and told the officials that while alone in his establishment Tuesday morning, two men entered and, with leveled revolvers, told him to open the safe. Sonnabend opened the small vault and one of the men scooped up $125 in money, and a quantity of jewelry stored. The pair fled from the store and made their getaway.

Identified as Holdup Man
After Sonnabend's story had been told, Sweeney was brought out and was identified as one of the robbers. The jewelry also was brought out and was identified by Sonnabend as his property.

Sweeney was then booked on the charge of robbery while armed, while Mrs. Sweeney was held as an accessory. Both were taken to police headquarters, where they were questioned by Supt. Crowley and were photographed and finger-printed. When the police grilling had been finished the pair were taken before Judge Laurie for arraignment. The police told of the dangerous character of Sweeney and his alleged accomplice and asked for high bail. The request was granted.

Police say that in a bag belonging to Mrs. Sweeney they found a bottle of poison and a diary containing names and addresses of persons in Norfolk and Baltimore. Police say Sweeney was arrested in April, 1923, in connection with an attempted hold-up of a drugstore in Allston. He was arrested by Officer Gottschalk of Station 14. Later he was released.

DAWES RECEPTION AT WESTBROOK, CONN.

WESTBROOK, Conn., Aug. 22.—Residents of Westbrook, including members of the town's summer colony, were invited today to a reception for Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, who is the guest here for the day of Walter H. Wilson of Chicago, before he resumes tonight his trip to Maine to speak tomorrow at a state-wide republican rally in Augusta.

Mr. Dawes, it was considered likely, would make a brief address to those invited to meet him. It is not anticipated, however, that he will make any extended remarks on the campaign issues as he has given the impression that he will reserve such speeches for dates scheduled by the republican national committee.

STORM SC.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Much interest was displayed at the box office of the B. F. Keith theatre, yesterday, when patrons booked up their subscriptions for the season and selected seats for performances throughout the coming months. The box office opened at 10 o'clock, and the string of callers for reservations was a steady one.

Everything will be working in ship-shape order next Monday when the 14th season is officially opened. With a bill of big acts and a feature picture here is every reason why lovers of good variety should attend.

The theatre has been cleaned from top to bottom during the summer months, and additions have been made which will not only enhance the presentation of acts materially but which will mean greater comfort for the patrons.

The orchestra will be headed by William Gilmore, and the players of other season will be on hand when the overture is opened.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
One of the greatest storm scenes since "The Old Homestead" is a feature of the new Herbert Bronson production for Paramount, "The Breaking Point," which is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre.

The story is a gripping western drama, starting in New York and shifting to the Wyoming mountain country. With Nita Nalda, Fatsy Ruth Miller, George Fawcett and Milt Moore are featured in the principal roles. Mary Roberts Rinehart wrote the story which was unusually successful both as a novel and stage play.

The second attraction of the current program is "The Moral Sinner," starring popular Dorothy Dalton in a love drama of Paris, a comedy and the latest international news complete the bill.

An engagement of "The Covered Wagon" is announced for the Merrimack Square theatre soon.

RIALTO THEATRE
Capacity audiences at the Rialto yesterday wept and smiled and sympathized as the story of the weekling, Dr. Steve Mason was unfolded in "The Drug Traffic," which is the attraction at that popular movie theatre today and tomorrow. Hundreds of men, women and children marveled at the exposure of the damnable drug traffic as it operates, wreaking death and irreparable damage among mankind.

"The Drug Traffic" is a story of home of loved ones who err, of erring ones who repent, of unfortunate ones who fall of the weak who conquer. There is a splendid lesson taught by this melodramatic presentation. For it is convincingly true to life and no effort is spared to emphasize the evil of this terrible calamity, which has claimed millions of lives.

The picture is superbly produced with splendid acting on the part of Gladys Brockwell, who as the reformed drug addict, gives a portrayal of a human role that will not soon be forgotten. Others in the cast of importance are Barbara Tennant and Bob Walker, the latter as the unfortunate surgeon who is nearly strangled while in the clutches of the poison and he did splendid work.

Another big hit of the program was the first chapter of the new Pathé serial, "The Way of a Man" written by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon." It shows the obstacles and hardships that the early settlers underwent in their march across the country by the Oregon trail.

The added feature is "Lawless Men" with Neal Hart. Other pictures on the bill include a Sunshine comedy and a Fox News.

PRESCOTT STREET

CHERRY AND WEBB SALE IS BIG ATTRACTION

One of the largest local public sales of quality merchandise in which $150,000 worth of stock is involved was opened today at the Cherry & Webb establishment in John street.

Previous to the opening of the doors at 9 a. m. this morning thrifty housewives crowded the sidewalks along Merrimack and John streets bent on purchasing quality goods at popular reduced prices.

Since the opening of the enlarged Cherry & Webb establishment last February sales have been conducted off and on but the seven day grand unloading sale which was opened this morning offering regular Cherry & Webb merchandise at prices greatly reduced to the people of Lowell and surrounding cities and towns eclipses anything in its line ever experienced in the city.

With a salesforce enlarged by 75 additional clerks, the usual Cherry & Webb courtesy and service is being maintained throughout the sale. Although over 500 people answered the advertisement in The Sun on Wednesday evening, calling for the store yesterday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, only 75 were acceptable.

"Very few, however, were able to qualify," stated Walter Emmott today, local manager of the Cherry & Webb organization.

The store was closed this afternoon from 12 to 1:15 thereby enabling the clerks and especially the cashiers, to enjoy their dinner hour after a "crowded" morning.

Every department in the store, from the quality basement to the infants' and children's wear on the third floor, offers bargain galore. An instance of the quality of the goods offered is found on the second floor, the cloak and suit department, where coats of charmes, point twill, twill-cord and other expensive materials are on display at drastically reduced prices.

The basement section, toilet counter, first floor, and the children's furnishings section on the third floor however were the busiest parts of the store today, although all departments were well patronized. At the toilet counter, where soap is on sale at practically a give-away price, women and children pushed their way through the throngs. One woman, bent on having enough soap until the next big Cherry & Webb sale purchased until her arms were nearly filled with the small packages and would have called her young son into service to deliver the goods while she purchased more had she not been courteously told that the sale of the particular toilet article in question was limited.

All in all, the sale proved its worth on the opening day and with the salesforce enlarged by 75 additional clerks, the store opens on Monday morning, everything will be in ship-shape condition for the continuance of the sale during the coming week.

The sale will be brought to a close on Saturday, August 30, when practically every article in the store will be offered at slashed prices, a fitting culmination to one of the greatest merchandise sales in the history of the city, and incidentally a record in Cherry & Webb quality merchandise dispositions.

SALE OF LAND IN MAMMOTH ROAD

A 65-acre tract of land off upper Mammoth road has been purchased by E. Gaston Campbell and Wilfred P. Dalgic from Charles A. Howard. The purchasers plan to develop the property and partition it into house lots. The transaction was made through the real estate office of E. Gaston Campbell.

Mr. Campbell also reports the sale of a modern eight-room house at 32 Campaw street, Dracut. The grantor is Arthur Leasard and the purchasers Joseph and Eva Perreault. The sale price was about $3000.

Peter V. J. and Eva J. Mullin recently sold their seven-room house at 48 Old road, Dracut, to Nickolas Nickologines, the transfer being made through Mr. Campbell's office. Included in the transfer are six house lots and a number of poultry houses. The price was approximately $3500.

Had Interesting Trip

of the countries on his personally conducted tour. It proved to be an experience full of delightful results, revealing many remarkable facts about various racial and social conditions of life and foreign pursuits as they are today.

Mr. Legare's visit to Italy impressed him with one important fact. The Mussolini regime is awakening civic progressive ambitions throughout the country. There is an impressive movement under way to adopt better methods in constructive modern works, contributing to the comforts of the thickly-inhabited cities. Evidence that a new public spirit is sweeping through the land of ancient history, appears in extensive new systems of railroads and telephone lines. The street lighting systems have always been adequate for the people.

There is no great amount of prosperity apparent in Italy to the casual traveler, Mr. Legare said. The country seems to be peacefully going along in the ordinary ways of life familiar to Italian customary ways of life. At present in the most popular leader of the natives ever had, you hear no one proclaiming the fact.

The Italian people appear to be cheerfully letting the "man of the hour" continue his present program, which, in Mr. Legare's opinion, appears to be the "modernizing" of the country so far as it can be done, to provide more comforts for the people at large.

Switzerland today is crowded with American travelers and the usual host of wealthy German tourists, men and women. Money in the Swiss republic is so plentiful that it is almost impossible to find a man who is not a tourist, food you buy, hotel bills and traveling expenses you have to meet are costly.

American tourists are sometimes bewildered, gazing with wonderment, when they see swarms of richly dressed German citizens with wives and families, traveling through Switzerland, Italy and France. They are apparently everywhere. No European hotel is quite apropos today without an overweening, arrogant delegation of German tourists, flaunting their wealth, capturing first place if possible in the grand rush for the best tourist trade that has been almost continuous in every one of the noted excursion resorts in every nook and corner of Europe since the World war ended. It is one of the most amazing things that American travelers see and talk about after their return home.

It is a mystery to most Americans, just how Germany can plead poverty-stricken conditions at home and allow thousands of representatives of her great wealth and enormous industries parade around European fashion and travel resorts, giving every evidence that money is plenty in Germany.

Mr. Legare did not visit Germany on his recent tour abroad. He spent considerable time as a guest at the Italian villa of General Butler Ames, on the famous shores of Lake Como, Italy. The lake is partly in Switzerland.

Mr. Legare visited favorite scenic spots in the Alps and climbed snow-capped peaks. The scenery cannot be accurately described; visitors linger long in the noted resorts or locations that furnish amazing views of nature's wonderland. American tourists are fond of filling the hotel in Switzerland as never before. Mr. Legare met them on every railroad train, in all Broecker-labeled hostels, at most of the historic points of interest here, there and everywhere.

France today? Prospering, Mr. Legare believes. There is little one can see on the surface of things that indicate France is preparing for war, or even seeking war. The people for the most part seem to be working diligently all the time.

There is something rather curious—or strange about European countries today, however, something that made a deep impression upon Mr. Legare, he said. The leading countries have a seemingly enormous number of men doing police duty—in all cities and towns. In the largest cities of France and Italy, foreign visitors get the impression that they are entering an armed camp. It reminds some travelers of World war days, when troops were everywhere.

Mr. Legare said that there were no noticeable indications that the people of France were greatly disturbed by the negotiations with Germany over the Ruhr problems. Conversations with the French people did not converge on German controversial matters. Rather, Mr. Legare thinks the people of France today are carrying on with considerable prosperity in the usual way characteristic of the race. Certainly, there is no outward exhibition of a desire on the part of the average to fight Germany or anything of that kind.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS DUE TO TANLAC TREATMENT

In England, if there are serious industrial troubles as reported, Mr. Legare did not receive any such impression. The country appears to be prosperous, business in general appears to be moving along about "as usual." There were no signs of anything indicating hard times of a serious sort.

The Lowell traveler caught a good glimpse of England's king as he one day swept by in a carriage, bound for a recreation park. The sovereign is greatly beloved by his people, Mr. Legare said. Before leaving England, the lone tourist had an opportunity to journey to many ancient hamlets and places of historic interest. That part of his foreign tour was entrancing indeed, for the scenery of the country outside of the English cities, where the highways run through beautiful rural territories, is something one must behold to fully appreciate. Mr. Legare returned to the United States on the Olympic, arriving in New York Tuesday.

Gen. Butler Ames called this morning on the Olympic, bound for the Ames villa in Italy.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN AMERICA

Imogene Wilson is coming to town. Nearly everybody who reads newspapers knows who she is, but for the few who may not, the line is added that she is the "Polter" star who Ed Zeigfeld called, and without reservation—America's most beautiful girl.

Miss Wilson, having finally settled the difference arising from her recent spat with Frank Tinney, black-faced comedian of the Polter, will positively appear at Merrimack park next Monday night, August 25, and will dance with a local male partner to be selected by the park management.

On account of her prominence and her place in the theatrical world, the park management has been obliged to dig deep into its coffers to meet the expense of her engagement, so for that reason a slight admission fee will be charged for this occasion only.

Imogene, having been temporarily released from the Polter, is appearing in all principal cities in the east. The Merrimack park management, ever alert for attractions, looked her for a local engagement which is expected to score another one of the tremendous hits which have attended all her appearances in this and other sections of the country.

"Bibbs" as she is called by her Broadway associates, was daintily beaten by Tinney a short time ago. He punched her in the face and was asked to tell the judge about it. It was a lover's quarrel, so nothing much came out of it. Tinney went to London to fill a number of music hall engagements, so Imogene has decided until his return, to give the easterners a chance to corroborate Zeigfeld's claims that she is easily—America's most beautiful girl.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Marriage intentions were filed today with City Clerk Flynn by Edward P. Demaris, Nashua, showworker, and Helen M. Spillman, 17 So. Whipple street, same occupation, and Paul R. Bradford, So. Lancaster, mechanic and Frances L. Thomas, 45 Tolman avenue, telephone operator.

Mrs. Benson Says World's Famous Tonic Banished Troubles a Year Ago—Was Miserable Following Flu

"Tanlac has certainly meant health and happiness to me, for I have not had a sick day since I banished my troubles over a year ago," declared Mrs. Lena Benson, 144 Lancaster street, Portland, Me., recently.

"Influenza left me so weak and miserable that I thought I would never be myself again. My appetite was woefully lacking. I could eat only soups, broths and toast and was as thin as a shadow. And nervous, why, I was nearly frantic and would go for a week without sound sleep. I had terrible pains, all through my body and suffered so I would just sit down and cry."

"I will always bless Tanlac! It ended every ailment, built up my weight and made me stronger than ever. I now eat meats, potatoes, cabbage, etc., and all the fixings, sleep and feel fine, and my friends all remark how healthy I look. I would not be without Tanlac!"

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold."

"Tanlac Vegetable Pills, for constipation, made and recommended by the manufacturers of Tanlac—Adv."

Pres. Coolidge visits boyhood haunts

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 22.—Well rested after a week of practical seclusion at his father's home here during which time he has seen only a few intimate friends, President Coolidge today received newspapermen and gave his attention again publicly to affairs of office.

Long walks, including visits to his boyhood haunts, plenty of sleep and the cool weather of this climate have given the president a much needed rest, his friends say.

Meanwhile he has devoted some attention also to his immediate calendar and has arranged to some extent his speaking engagements. His present program calls for one out-of-town address at Hattim on Sept. 6, at the unveiling of the Lafayette statue there, and addresses in Washington at the Fraternal Congress, probably next Friday; and at the unveiling of the First Division monument, Oct. 1. Another tentative date is for the Holy Name society convention in Washington, Sept. 26.

Spaulding school, first grade and principal of building, Miss Nellie Engler, Newton; second grade, Miss Margarette Teller of Lowell; Shaw-shueen school, principal and teacher of upper grades, Miss William Wiggin; lower grades, Miss Ruth Tingley; North school, Miss Eva Baray, principal and teacher of upper grades; Miss Anna Mulligan, lower grades; West school, Mrs. Sarah Compt, of Lowell; special supervisors drawing, Miss Gladys Pillsbury of Tewksbury.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because they irritate the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids, which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and heat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion—Adv.

Healthy Women, Happy Homes

Good dispositions succumb. Irritability and snappy retort take the place of happiness and amiability. Sunshine is driven out of homes, in fact, they are often wrecked, and friends are estranged because women suffer with ailments peculiar to their sex. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments and restore health and happiness. Do not resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy made from roots and herbs is always within reach—Adv.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?
Why cutting and operations fail?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Green's drug store and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for cure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you.—ADV.

BUYS LAND FOR FILLING STATION

The purchase of an acre of land and two buildings in Tyngsboro on the Tyngsboro-North Chelmsford highway, by the Lafite Coal company of this city is reported through the office of William D. Leggett, real estate dealer. It is understood that a large modern filling station will be erected on the property in the near future. The grantor in the transaction is Daniel J. Shea of Tyngsboro.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, August 22—All the "smart cracks" aren't uttered by humans. Parrots have gone in for the new and lighter lingo.

A friend relates many of the interesting quips of his bird.

When the bird is covered for the night he invariably bawls out, "Good night, boys!"

"Do you like it?" is the question he asks as the family sits for meals—especially when there is company.

Two children were playing on a fire escape, overlooked from the parrot's cage. "Watch your step!" was the admonition he shouted.

If the door bell rings the bird cries, "Come in. Who is it?"

He refuses to leave his cage on any pretext. The last time he was taken from the cage he was moved to Chicago. He didn't like the western city and fears a repetition of the journey.

But every time his cage is placed under a shower bath, he flaps his wings and squawks "Atta boy!"

When the bird's master leaves for the office each day, the bird waxes sentimental—then humorous and defying, with "Good-bye—hate to see you leave—good-bye—hate to see you leave."

A patriarchal bird and dog dealer in Brooklyn has a parrot that has been his sole companion for many years. The bird, a rare species, is worth a fortune. But the man of dwindling wealth probably would starve before parting with "Bobby."

Each night as the dealer walks about his shop petting his dogs a fond good night, the parrot mournfully and jealously asks, "You love Bobby?" Indeed, the aged dealer does.

Alexander Dolowitz, nattily dressed but homeless, tried to break into jail but failed.

He took a long taxicab ride and then refused to pay on the grounds he had no money.

The magistrate was powerless to sentence Dolowitz because the taxi driver refused to appear as a prosecuting witness when he found Dolowitz was anxious to be jailed.

Spite work.

A warrant for the rearrest of Robert Allen, a prisoner in Sing Sing, had been filed.

Allen asked officials who filed it. He found it was Justice Lewis Raigis in prison himself for embezzling fees. They will talk it over behind Sing Sing's wall this week.

Between 1912 and 1922 the national wealth of the United States was increased by 72.2 per cent., according to a British statistician.

GREATEST SALE
IN YEARS

REASON: Our store is crowded with beautiful, new, latest model Napanee Dutch Kitchenets; too many for comfort. As we simply can't spare all the room they're taking, we have made up our minds to "clear out" the surplus AT ONCE. Now we realize that the quickest way to do this is to "cut loose" on inducements, savings and terms. So here's your chance, Mrs. Kitchen Cabinet Buyer. We need the room and if you have space in your kitchen, we'll make you a proposition that you can't beat. Come in Saturday

NOTICE: This sale is limited to our surplus stock and we reserve the privilege of withdrawing this offer without further notice. Among these beautiful cabinets are models to fit any space. Some are only 24 in. wide—others 36 in., 42 in. and even 50 in. wide! There's any variety—in beautiful French gray, snow white and golden oak finishes. You're sure to find one you like—and our offer will do the rest. All are genuine Napanees, "The world's finest kitchen cabinets." Wonderfully constructed! Seize this chance!

Amazing Savings, Inducements and Terms—for Saturday

LISTEN: We will even take in your present cabinet as a cash payment on any Napanee in this stock. Don't let anything stand in the way of your attending this sale. You never saw finer built, finer looking cabinets—and we wager the savings we will offer you are also beyond duplication. Never again such an opportunity! Act on it Saturday

WAKEFIELD MAN HELD IN DEATH CASE

ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—The charge of manslaughter was preferred against George Fraughton of Wakefield, Mass., today, as the result of the death of Edward Sukeforth, with whom he admitted having quarreled last night, officers said.

According to a witness, some words were exchanged and Fraughton was alleged to have struck Sukeforth with his fist. In falling, Sukeforth, who is about 70, landed on the pavement and received injuries to the base of the brain. He did not recover consciousness.

Fraughton is 32 and married. He was arrested at the home of his father-in-law here.

MARBLE MARKERS FOR GRAVES OPPOSED

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 22.—Bellott Lawson, II, of Chicago was elected president late yesterday of the Association of American Cemetery Superintendents at the closing session. The 12th convention will be held in Chicago.

Arthur J. Floyd superintendent of Evergreen cemetery here, was unanimously elected vice president. W. B.

Jones of Pittsburgh was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Joseph A. Reed of Canton, O., the retiring president, was chosen a member of the executive committee for three years.

Secretary Jones presented the report of the committee on soldiers' markers, recommending to the association that the government be authorized in the war department regulations for soldiers' graves, if marble be prohibited in cemeteries under the jurisdiction of the association.

The committee has also urged for the substitution of granite markers rather than marble, but their recommendations were opposed by the quarter-master general of the army in his report on the matter to the war department.

The Grand Army of the Republic in some locations has backed the stand of the cemetery men's committee, and efforts to have granite substituted for the marble will be continued.

VICTORY FOR FRENCH PREMIER

Herriot Wins First Party
Battle in Chamber on London Agreement

Motion to Refer London
Accord on Dawes Plan To Commission Defeated

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Premier Herriot without much difficulty won the first party battle in the chamber of deputies on the London reparation agreement, and, barring the unexpected development, always possible in politics, he may be fairly expected to win the second after submitting to the interpellations, the total of which has now reached 14.

His first victory came last evening when the chamber defeated, 320 votes to 209, a motion to refer the London accord on the Dawes plan to a commission with the understanding that the premier sign the agreement before parliament debated the question of ratification, on the theory that the accord constituted a new treaty outside the Versailles pact.

The vote was taken after the premier had read a long declaration defining his negotiations at the London conference. Although M. Herriot has come off victorious in the first tilt it is possible that the debate may take longer than was originally calculated, yesterday's motion and vote having delayed the opening of the discussion.

There will undoubtedly be a stern fight, as M. Herriot's critics include some of the most able parliamentary tacticians.

Plays Dawes Plan

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Communist Leader Marcel Cachin, interpellating Premier Herriot at today's session of the Chamber of Deputies on the London reparation accord, declared that "Dawes represents American imperialism in a most direct, personal and concrete fashion." M. Herriot merely shrugged his massive shoulders, readjusted his horn-rimmed glasses and continued making notes.

Resuming, Deputy Cachin said that "the new American policy is not very disinterested. It has strictly an economic basis. The Americans hope to find an entree into European markets where they can impose their conditions. They must have healthy markets to which they can export, hence the Dawes plan. They have no sympathy of Europe nor for our country."

The communist in the chamber alone applauded the interpellator and M. Cachin proceeded to make the charge that the Americans at the London international conference imposed the Dawes plan "with force and some brutality" referring to the Hughes speech at the Pilgrimage club as an example. American statesmen, according to the Communist deputy, are hostile to Red Russia "both from a class spirit and because they do not wish to see Russian wheat flooding the world's markets."

At the end of the morning sitting, the chamber voted to begin discussion on the ratification of the Lausanne treaty as soon as the debates on the London conference have been concluded.

FOSTER SEES BIG REVOLUTION

Declares "Democracy We Live Under is Fake and a Pretense"

Plays La Follette and Invites Workers to Join Communist Organization

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 22.—William Z. Foster of Chicago, presidential nominee of the Workers' party, in an address here last night, declared that "the democracy we live under is a fake and a pretense," and invited his audience to "join the workers' party and become a member of the international communist organization of the world on the eve of the greatest revolution in history."

Foster referred to the present government in Russia as an "ideal workers' government," declaring that "the soviet system is the next step in the social evolution in America."

He characterized Senator La Follette's presidential candidacy as "entering to the small capitalists, the small business men, merchants and some farmers," and declared that "when the workers become more powerful in this country, La Follette, Gompers and the small capitalists will rise with the big capitalists to squelch us."

VOTERS' REGISTRATION ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

Evening Session Last Night

Added 177 Names to Local Check-Lists

Just 177 names were added to the check-lists as a result of last night's evening session of the election board, held from 7 to 9 o'clock in city hall. This was the third and last evening session before the primaries to be held on Sept. 8th. Daily registration sessions, from 9 to 4 o'clock will continue, except on Saturdays when the office closes at 12:30 o'clock.

There has been a healthy registration all year and last night's figures were not at all surprising to political sharps as it is known that many candidates are going over the check lists and urging unregistered friends to get their names listed. Since the presidential primaries in April, 1923, persons have been registered during the day sessions of the board, making a total registered 1768 through the day and night sessions.

Chairman McOsker of the elections board, said this morning that 867 persons had been registered up to Monday, from the date of the presidential primaries late in April, and that with the opening of evening registration sessions for three days this week further increases in the check lists were made.

On Monday 87 names were added, 117 Tuesday, 40 Wednesday, and 177 yesterday. The low number for Wednesday is accounted for by the fact there was no evening session on that day. Thus far this week, up to 11 o'clock today, 301 new names have been added to the lists of those registered.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Automobile production figures for July, although showing a decline from the output of the same month last year, are considered satisfactory to the trade. Cars manufactured showed a decided gain over June, to which special significance is attached because a decided decline was shown by production last July over the previous month.

Bankers are reported to be giving careful attention to the action of the railroad shares. Although Southern Railway common crossed seventy for the first time in its history of 30 years, rail issues were the weakest group in yesterday's trading. As they began the upward movement in the market several months ago, it is expected they will be the first part of the list to be subject to distribution.

The Fisher Body corporation earned net income of $1,696,170 in the quarter ended July 31, equal to $2.82 a share on the common stock against $3,626,394 or $8.18 in the corresponding quarter of 1923.

Rum-Runner Shot to Death

Seabright station and six men in the speed boat Lynx II. The crew and boat were captured with five hundred cases of whiskey found aboard the craft.

The coast guards fought with machine guns and revolvers.

The remaining five men of the Lynx II crew identified themselves as Joseph Wilson, John Dykes, B. L. Smith, all of New York, and Henry Wolf, and Hans Karlsen of Brooklyn.

After bringing ashore the prisoners, Piepro's body, and the whiskey, the coast guards who had been on patrol all night, put out again on another search.

Piepro was the third rum-runner shot in this vicinity during the last two weeks. The two others are now in Monmouth Memorial hospital, Long Branch.

UNITED STATES SENATE

Before the death of Senator Colt of Rhode Island, the republicans had fifty-one members in the United States senate. Now the nominal republican strength is 53, but of these, Ladd, Fraser, Norris and Brookhart are classed with the insurgents. This situation causes much speculation as to what would result if the election of president were thrown into the house and no choice could be made, viz., if none of the candidates who sought election at the polls could secure the necessary majority. In the event of the election being thrown into congress, the senate would have to elect the vice president, and if it failed to elect, following a like failure in the house, the situation would be unprecedented and would present a problem for which the constitution provides no definite remedy. In such a case it is believed that under the rule of succession adopted by congress, Secretary Hughes would serve as president during the deadlock.

But the republicans are holding up to the country the possibility of the senate in such a case, electing Governor Bryan, because of his alleged radical tendencies. Bryan has shown no leaning toward radicalism. He is the friend of the farmer, but is not advocating any radical measures in behalf of the agricultural industry. This is but one of the bugaboos with which republicans are trying to prevent the people from voting the democratic ticket. It contemplates a remote possibility that might not occur in a thousand years and we do not believe it is going to fool anybody. There will be no danger of the election being thrown into the house as the indications point to the election of Davis and Bryan.

DAWES AND HIS CLAIMS

The chief effect of Dawes' speech, if it be taken seriously, which we very much doubt, would be to instigate a class war between what he terms the revolutionists behind La Follette, or in other words, between the red flag and the American flag; and he presumptuously, as is his wont, claims that the republican party alone stands for the American flag. He is evidently bent on trying to persuade the people that the republican party alone can save the country, but it may be fairly recalled that the democrats in congress have had a busy time of it in saving the government and the people from the rapacity of republican corruptionists. Possibly Mr. Dawes thinks he can have the people forget all about that and about the industrial depression by spreading alarm over the supposed menace of red radicalism.

The election of the democratic ticket will safeguard the country alike against radicalism and against republican corruption and mismanagement. The G. O. P. has been fairly tried and found wanting in the ability to conduct the government of the nation along the lines of progress and prosperity. That is why it should be retired. We do not think Mr. Dawes will get very far with the assumption that his party has a monopoly of all the patriotism in the country.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

There is a growing conviction that the industrial depression is petering out and that there will be a very general resumption of activity in the textile and other lines the early fall. Unemployment for the past year or two has been widely prevalent throughout the country, resulting from a lack of demand for manufactured products. The foreign market was practically cut off; the domestic was not sufficient to absorb all our products and hence our factories had to go on short time for lack of orders. Some of them, we understand, continued to run at a loss, merely to help their employees tide over the dull period.

Meantime the farmers of the west who were badly affected by the depression are rejoicing in the high prices of wheat and other farm products. As a result of the operation of natural and economic laws, they are rapidly recovering from the adverse conditions from which they suffered during the past two years. They are now able to buy what they want and to pay off part of their indebtedness. The result helps the entire country, it appears. It would seem that an improvement is at hand and that in the near future, even the textile industry, perhaps the most sensitive to adverse conditions, will experience a welcome improvement.

A year ago the price of wheat was 90 cents a bushel, now it is $1.30. The increase is due to short crops in Canada, Northern Africa and in some European countries. The American wheat grower has the double advantage of a large yield and a much higher price. As a result there is a greater activity in the leading industries, including steel, motor production, leather and railroad equipment.

The financial expert of the First National Bank of New York, in his monthly review, makes this encouraging statement:

"The cotton mills are producing slightly more, and a significant fact is, that manufacturers are now refusing firm but unsatisfactory price proposals for goods. This phase is usually the forerunner of substantial business at reasonably satisfactory levels. The hand-to-mouth policy of practically all branches of industry, coupled with very drastic curtailment of production in recent months, has set the stage for a sound revival in business, the beginning of which is already apparent."

SELECTING AN OCCUPATION

About this time a great number of school graduates are considering just where they will fit in the industrial environment. Some of them are undecided as to whether they will go to work or go back to school. The graduate who has fixed his mind upon a definite pursuit has a great advantage in singleness of purpose.

Unless a graduate finds congenial employment in the line of his aptitudes, he is not likely to succeed. If, however, he shows no special preference for any particular calling, then he will probably flounder about until he finds the pursuit for which he is best adapted, after only taking a lot of hard knocks in the school of experience.

It would be well indeed if the parents or teachers could decide the vocation of the young graduate; but although some experts claim to be able to do so, experience shows that decisions so made very often prove disappointing. It is reasonable that the graduate himself should have some thing to say in the choice of his life.

The Firemen's Cat

A cat that slides down the brass pipes in a fire station when an alarm rings and delights in accompanying the firemen to a blaze has been discovered in a station in lower Manhattan. The firemen adopted the cat as a mascot while it was a kitten.

Short, the Tall Man

"Isn't a lawsuit involving a patent right about the dumbest thing, long?" asked one lawyer of another. "Not always," was the reply. "I attended a trial of that character not long ago that was really funny. A tall lawyer named Short was reading a 6000-word document he called a brief."—Everybody's Magazine.

Used Shorn Tresses

Jung Ho, wife of a Chinese merchant in Canada, returned from China with bobbed hair, but she carried her shorn tresses with her in the shape of an exquisite picture of Marco Harbor, which she had embroidered on silk with her own hair while crossing the Pacific. The necessary result in the picture was obtained by the use of white hair, for which one of the stewards sacrificed a lock.

Born That Way

A roustabout on a steamboat had a banjo which he kept picking in a desultory sort of way. Some traveling men were standing around and listening to a little music. The roustabout, obliged with a couple of numbers, which he performed so badly that one of the group asked him where he learned to play. "I never took no lesson," he replied with dignity. "I'm just naturally gifted."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Col. Cody's Grave

There is a flat concrete slab over the unpretentious grave of Col. Cody—Buffalo Bill—on top of Lookout Mountain, Colo., and this in turn is covered with ordinary chicken wire, and on the concrete are hundreds of coins, pennies, nickels, dimes, and even larger ones, which the visitors have thrown there. The chicken wire is to prevent anybody from getting the money with a stick. The object of the collection is to build a real monument for the last resting place of Buffalo Bill.

The Meanest Father

A young man in a northern city believes that he possesses one of the meanest and most unnatural parents in the world. Recently the old man took a holiday, and in his absence his son secured a contract worth thousands to the firm. He scribbled a triumphant note to his father, but waited in vain for a congratulatory telegram. The next day the old man returned and took up his accustomed place without a word. "I thought my letter would give you a lot of sleep," the young man observed, after bearing the silence as long as he could. "It did that," was the reply. "I've forgot to stamp it, ya loon, and I'd access to pay on it."

Good Bookkeeping

A young husband finding that his pretty but extravagant wife was considerably exceeding their income, brought her home one evening a neat little account book, nicely bound, and looking very attractive. This he presented to her, together with a hundred dollars. "Now, my dear," he said, "I want you to put down what I give you on this side, and on the other write down the way it goes, and then I will give you another supply." A couple of weeks later he asked for the book. "O, I have kept the account all right," said the wife, producing the little leather volume; "see here it is, and on one page was incurred." "Reckoned from November 1, 1924," and on the one opposite the comprehensive little summary: "Spent it all."

Keep On Keepin' On

If the day looks kinder gloomy
And your chances kinder slim,
If the situation's puzzlin'
And the prospects awful grim,
If perplexities keep pressin'
Till hope is nearly gone,
Just bristle up and grit your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

Frettin' never wins a fight
And fumin' never pays;
There ain't no use in breedin'
In these pessimistic ways;
Smile just kinder cheerfully
Though hope is nearly gone,
And bristle up and grit your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

There ain't no use in growlin',
And grumblin' ain't all the durn,
When music's ringin' everywhere
And everything's a rhyme.
Just keep on smilin' cheerfully
If hope is nearly gone,
And bristle up and grit your teeth
And keep on keepin' on.

RETIRE FROM U. S. CUSTOMS SERVICE

Dr. Stephen C. Bailey of 111 Stevens street, has retired from service in the adjustment and drawback division of the United States customs service in Boston, after spending nearly 29 years in government employ. He was presented a purse of gold by fellow employees on Wednesday, being held in high esteem by all customs service associates. John R. H. Finn, chief clerk of the division, was master of ceremonies. Deputy Collector Robin G. Frye offered congratulations to the Lowell man for his long service and excellent record.

Dr. Bailey is a graduate of Yale, once practiced medicine, later taught school in Lowell just before entering government service.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The usual summer stunt of sending postals while away on vacations is with us again just as strong as ever. I received a card the other day that caused me to smile. It was of the lake and bandstand at Oak Bluffs, and I'll bet dollars to doughnuts the view was taken when the placid summer resort on Martha's Vineyard was better known under its old name of Cottage City. I say this because in the foreground are three members of the fair sex, back to, seated on a settee. From a glance at the hats one can readily tell the picture is of no recent date. On the promenade, in the distance, one can discern the colorful parasols and the long ankles, perhaps, no-length, stiff, starched dresses that milady wore on parade in yesteryear.

The many friends of William Canole, former police officer of Dracut, were well pleased with the news published yesterday of his appointment as federal prohibition agent. In Dracut especially, the appointment met with great favor and in police circles in Lowell it was also felt the appointment was well merited. "Bill," as he is known to his friends, was a well-liked "cop" and it is very certain he will be equally well appreciated as a prohibition agent. Kenwood was Officer Canole's special care when a policeman and I have yet to hear of an occasion where he wasn't courteous and generous in the enforcement of the law there.

Do you want to be a king? A job's open for you. Explorers return with news that a ruler is wanted by the kingdom of Cabinda at the mouth of the Congo river in Africa. There is a great custom over there of killing the king the first night after installing him into office. So, no king for many years. Nothing is quite as effective as death. Nature is showing in limiting the years we spend on earth. Death is her way of maintaining the balance. It checks the brain prying too intimately into nature's secrets. Above all, it makes room for another train load of excursionists—the next generation.

There is much speculation among members of Lowell's traffic squad concerning the arrival of the new khaki uniform. The suits, similar to those worn by the traffic men of Boston, were ordered several weeks ago and the measurement of the prospective wearers taken. At that time, it was expected that they would arrive in a week, but now almost a month has elapsed. During that month considerable hot weather was experienced. The most plausible explanation for the delay seems to be that a strike of Boston garment makers is in progress.

There are 2000 different lines of work that a boy or girl can follow when they strike out into the world for themselves. This figure is uncharted by Dorris Maddow, the vocational guidance expert. Meaning, that, she specializes in helping young people select the work they are best fitted for.

Two thousand different lines of work mean 2000 different kinds of opportunity. For there is opportunity in every field, always leaders and plenty of room for more.

Success comes to relatively few. It demands a great ability, concentration and luck or the law of chance.

More than 200 American children were blinded in one or both eyes this year celebrating the Fourth of July with fireworks. So claims National Committee for Prevention of Blindness, after checking up.

It's less than one child out of every 100 that is blind in the country. No statistics were kept, but years ago the rate was much higher. Safe and Sane Fourth was as wise a move as this country ever made.

The city hall offered a great demonstration of absentee government yesterday forenoon. The mayor, the city solicitor, the purchasing agent, the auditor, the buildings inspector, the chairman of the board of health, the chairman and one member of the board of public service being among those reported "temporarily out of the city." And so far as is known no two of them are together.

BISHOP WILL VISIT SUMMER COLONY

CANOBIE LAKE, N. H., Aug. 22—Catholic members of the local summer colony will be visited by the Rt. Rev. Albert Guerlin, bishop of Manchester, Sunday afternoon. He will assist at the usual service of benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at the Church of the Immaculate Conception here. It is predicted the bishop will give his sanction to the erection of a new Catholic church at Salton, for which the Rev. T. C. Laughlin, pastor there, who also attends to the spiritual wants of the summer colonists here, has been establishing a fund for some time past. Other prominent clergymen invited include the Rev. Fr. Tighe, provincial of the Oblate Fathers, and the Rev. Fr. Kennedy, both of Lowell.

A LAMENT

O World! O Life! O Time!
On whose last steps I climb,
Trembling at that where I had stood before;
When will return the glory of your prime?
No more—oh never more!
Out of the day and night
A joy has taken flight
Fresh spring, and summer, and winter hoar
Move my faint heart with grief, but with delight
No more—oh never more!

Luck

I haven't much faith in the little word luck, though it's true I may have some some day. I feel that accomplishment's gained when you've stuck to a thing till it comes out your way.

The fellow who waits for the gift of the fates often waits till he reaches death's gate. His work's been a drizzle with life just a fizzle because he was willing to wait.

If you want a rap you must bring forth your pep; you must always be up and a-doing. You'll feel a heap better if you're a go-getter and always keep something a brewing.

The fellow who reaches the top seldom preaches. He uses his head, not his voice. Instead of just blowing he's constantly showing the way to get things of his choice.

Don't just be a rover who seeks four-leaf clover. Fight harder whenever you're stuck! You'll find you can do it, if you'll just stick to it, 'cause work works much better than luck.

WHEELER TO SPEAK IN MANY N. E. CITIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The La Follette-Wheeler campaign managers are directing their attention to New England and the south.

Coincident with the announcement that Senator Wheeler, of Montana, vice-presidential candidate, after opening the campaign with a Labor Day address in Boston, would speak in Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut before swinging through New York state on a tour westward, comes the statement that a regional headquarters is to be established in the south. The location has not been determined.

Plans for corraling votes in all sections of the country are under discussion at conferences which got under way here yesterday. Tomorrow John A. Nelson, national campaign manager with headquarters at Chicago will be in Washington. He will discuss the political situation with Senators La Follette and Wheeler, and with the committee which is assisting him in directing the campaign.

David Kniles, acting head of the Speakers' Bureau, left for Boston today to complete arrangements for the address by Senator Wheeler there and in other New England cities. The senator will speak in Worcester, Mass., in the evening of Labor Day, and, according to present plans, the next evening in Manchester, N. H. Other New England dates are indefinite.

After an absence of two nights, Minor-Doyles orchestra returns to the Commodore Ballroom, where the team will play for dancing this evening and tomorrow evening. New fox trot numbers are being featured and with the dancing, see in the heat of competition, every assurance is guaranteed for an evening of real pleasure. The admission is 10 cents.

WIGS ARE MADE FOR EVERY MOOD. HERE ARE THREE, A LONG-HAIRED ONE, A CURLY BOB AND A BOYISH BOB.

BY MARIAN HALE
(NEA Service Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—In the good old days if a woman wore a wig she kept it to herself because she wore it for the same reason she wore false teeth—to remedy a deficiency of nature.

Today a woman may own half a dozen wigs which she changes as often as she changes her frocks, and she doesn't care who knows it. You see her in the morning with a boyish bob; in the afternoon she may have soft ringlets all over her head, and by evening she may be wearing a topknot.

Obviously nature is not so speedy. Hair can't do much better than six inches a year, no matter how you coax it. So the only way to obtain such variety in one day is by co-operating with some reliable wig-maker.

Skilfully Made
The modern wig is so skilfully made that if a woman wished to keep the matter of wearing one a family secret she would have much less difficulty doing so than in the old days when a wig had a way of looking less like hair than anything else. But the idea of the modern wig is not to deceive, but to please and to fit a woman for any emergency.

Bobbed hair is comfortable and most appropriate when wearing a garconne frock or a sport outfit. But when one is all dressed up in ruffles and silks, one needs hair—and that's where the wig helps you out. Of course wigs become fashionable when bobbed hair became so popular. Long-haired ones are a positive boon to the woman who has cut her hair and then learns, alas, that her hair was her crowning glory. Short-haired models are equally convenient for the woman who won't sacrifice her hair for a temporary fad, but must have bobbed hair.

Great Boon
They have not only been a boon but a positive salvation to the woman whose husband has threatened to leave her if she bobs her hair or to the woman who would lose her job if her employer caught her with short hair.

Undoubtedly wigs have come into our complex life at a time when we need them most. Long may they wave!

The woman in the photograph shows you how you can have a boyish bob, a curly bob and long Godiva-like locks in just the amount of time it takes you to adjust three wigs. And the best part of it is that in one she is a blonde, in one a brunette and a red head in the third, making her just three times as dangerous as ever before.

Chelmsford Still in Pennant Race As Result of Holding Princetons to Tie Score

RALLY IN SEVENTH INNING BRINGS 3 TO 3 SCORE IN CRUCIAL GAME

With Pennant Chances Slipping Chelmsford Team Launches Attack and Battles to Even Terms With Centralville Organization—Play-off Next Week

The Chelmsford A. A. came from behind in the seventh inning of its game with the Princetons on the South common last night and tied the count at 3 and 3. An extra inning was played in an attempt to break the deadlock, but without success, and the game ended with no decision.

The game was a Lowell Twilight League affair, and was regarded as the most crucial of the year. If Chelmsford won the contest, it would be the C.M.A.C. for first place would exist. If the Princetons won they would go into a tie with Chelmsford for second place. The deadlock necessitated the play-off of the game next week.

Sam Poult and Walter Foye composed the Princetons battery. Demaris and Proulx worked in the box for the Chelmsford. The Princetons broke the ice in the sixth stanza when they scored one run. Two were out when Foye pitched a single to center field. Manuel Pratus in the face. Only one more run was needed to tie the score and Belleville proved the man of the hour by doubling to left, scoring Fletcher. The score:

In the seventh, the Princetons scored two more runs and had a 3 to 0 lead when Chelmsford took her last turn at bat. The subalterns sent in three pinch-hitters. Pratus in the third frame. All three got on, with Proulx scoring on Pickett's single. Fletcher sent a hot one down shortstop way. The ball took a wicked hop and struck Manuel Pratus in the face. Only one more run was needed to tie the score and Belleville proved the man of the hour by doubling to left, scoring Fletcher. The score:

IMPORTED FOX HOUNDS

Drag Hunt Will Feature Lowell Fish and Game Club Outing

Twenty-one imported English fox hounds will appear in a nine-mile drag hunt around the shores of Lake Massacuppit, on Thursday, Sept. 18, the rare sport feature being conducted on the day of the annual outing of the Lowell Fish and Game association. The event, which is to be a special red-letter attraction in the club's annual calendar of star sporting and social programs, will be run off in combination with the Lowell Fox Hound Hunt club, whose members are to supervise the exciting contest under expert auspices.

Members of the local Fish and Game association owning fox hounds, were all expected to enter the coming drag hunt. At first, it was proposed to make it a Middlesex county contest with its open to all fox hounds capable of working on the trails of the scent. Members of the Fish and Game club have been faithfully practicing with their favorite canines for several weeks past, but nearly all have informed Secretary-Fred W. Barrows that they won't be able to "make the trail."

Local fox hounds, champions on the common fox trails, appear to be unable to follow the scent left on the drag routes. A drag race would not be a drag race if the hounds didn't keep on the scent closely. SACO-LOWELL CLUB DEFEATS SUN TEAM

The Sun baseball team was defeated by Saco-Lowell ball club in a five-inning game at Alumni field last evening to the tune of 11 to 3.

The Sun team has no ability to offer for itself, except the fact that the "breaks" went against them. Carter started on the mound for the Saco-Lowell club, but was relieved by Dan Cogger who pitched selection to start the game, but was left in the composing room and gave way in favor of Charlie Keyes, who held the Saco men in control for the remainder of the game.

A late start in getting acquainted with the horsehide was responsible for the defeat. The Saco men went right to it in the first inning and scored five runs. In accomplishing the feat they were aided by a few typographical errors on the part of the sons of The Sun, but the advantage thus gained was never over-

The next Sun team will go to press at 5:45 o'clock next Tuesday evening against the Lowell Sunday Telegram.

Members of the local Fish and Game association owning fox hounds, were all expected to enter the coming drag hunt. At first, it was proposed to make it a Middlesex county contest with its open to all fox hounds capable of working on the trails of the scent. Members of the Fish and Game club have been faithfully practicing with their favorite canines for several weeks past, but nearly all have informed Secretary-Fred W. Barrows that they won't be able to "make the trail."

Local fox hounds, champions on the common fox trails, appear to be unable to follow the scent left on the drag routes. A drag race would not be a drag race if the hounds didn't keep on the scent closely. Hence, the decision, announced today, to secure trained dogs of imported breeds, which are coming to Lowell under the leadership of Master-at-arms Dan-

"All I've Got is Right Hand," Says Firpo, "But That's Plenty"

Luis Firpo

By JOE WILLIAMS
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—There is at least this much to be said for the good Senator Firpo, he does not deal lavishly in the fragrant bunk.

The South American is back in this country to fight Harry Wills. A year ago he was battered to fragments by Dempsey. His crudities were clear to anyone who knew a boxing glove from an Indian love sonnet.

"Firpo will never do until he learns to cover up and to use his left hand," the erudite experts wrote. It is the custom in a boxing ring to fight in a previous fight, has overcome all his old faults and is now an amazingly improved article.

You will recall a campaign of this nature was pushed energetically by gentlemen interested financially in the return of Carpentier to this country some months ago. A campaign to which George's lent enthusiastic verbal assistance.

Against Dempsey Carpentier had shown nothing but a right hand and a gliding weakness in the clinch. The new Carpentier, the fans were asked to believe, had perfected all these deficiencies and was, in truth, a completely reformed fighting machine.

That there might be no doubt whatever as to the authenticity of the transformation, Mr. George himself personally assured reporters that he was, indeed, a changed man.

It subsequently developed that the only difference between the Carpentier who quit to Dempsey and the dashing Frenchman now collecting rare specimens of greenbacks in our midst was the manner in which he parted his hair.

Now the good Senator Firpo is not at all like this. He does not ask you to accept him as a new model with all the latest conveniences. He is in every respect the same guileless Firpo that our smart promoters had on display a year ago—and frankly admits it.

All he knows about covering up is that it is a gentle operation relating in some manner to the business of going to bed.

And if he is using his left hand any better it is because he knows the American knuckles fit more gracefully into the fingers than the native Argentinian cutlery.

Mr. Tex Rickard and others interested in prolonging the box office career of the good senator tried to impress upon him the necessity of enlisting the services of Jimmy De Forest, noted trainer.

"De Forest can teach you the fine points of the game," persisted Rickard. "Fine points!" exploded the good senator in rich homelaid dialect, "what do I need with fine points when I've got this?"

And he held aloft a big, shaggy, right fist the same list that catapulted Mr. Dempsey clear out of the ring at the Polo Grounds on the night of Sept. 14, 1923.

GIRL TENNIS CHAMPION

Queena Douglas Defends Title by Defeating Rita Regan in Two Sets

Eddie Mahoney, Last Year Champion, Defeated by Horace Manning

Miss Queena Douglas, senior girl tennis champion of the playgrounds a year ago, defended her title yesterday at the Highlands courts and held it for another year by defeating Miss Rita Regan in two sets, 8-1, 6-2.

Miss Regan came up through the playoffs in the first round.

GIANTS CONTINUE TO SET DIZZY PACE IN NAT. LEAGUE RACE

New York Team Leads Pirates by Five and One-Half Games—Hornsbey Makes Seven Hits in Seven Times at Bat—Braves and Red Sox Move Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The Giants continue to set a dizzy pace in the race for the pennant and today lead the league five and one-half games in advance of the Pirates in second place.

Seven games ahead of the fast-moving Dodgers who are third and nine games ahead of the slipping Cubs in fourth position.

McGraw's outfit annexed both ends of a double-header in St. Louis taking the opening game 8-4 and the second 12-1. Rogers Hornsbey, leading batter of the National league, made seven hits in seven times at bat, two of them being for the circuit.

Hornsbey got his 17th homer of the season off Edgar in the second game. The first game and his 15th off Barnes in the second game. Four singles and a double made in a perfect day for Rogers.

The Brooklyn team took the first game of the series from the Cubs, tightening their hold on third place. Edgar took the lead in the second game, allowing only four hits. Only two of the Cubs reached second and none of them got to third. Jack Fournier hit his 25th home run of the season.

SEMI-FINALS IN THE JACK KEARNS HAS NOSE MIXED DOUBLES MADE OVER

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22.—Women tennis players shared with men today the grand stand courts at the Longwood Cricket club where for 4 days none but men, contesting the national doubles championship, have played. With the finalists in that tournament decided yesterday by the five set victory of Gerald Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, and Robert G. and Howard G. Kinsey of San Francisco, it was decided to put the title match over until tomorrow afternoon.

This left the stage clear for the semi-finals of the national mixed doubles championship, and for the final round of the women's invitation singles tournament.

The playing-through champions, Mrs. Nellie B. Muller and W. E. Tilden, 2nd, had the team of Mrs. G. W. Wightman and Jean Borotra, the latter captain of the French Davis cup team, in one semi-final. Miss Helen Wills, national woman singles titlist, and Vincent Richards, joint holder of the Olympic doubles crown, were matched against Miss Eleanor Goss and Hene La Costa, another French star, in the other.

The final of the women's singles brought together Miss Goss, number three in national women's ranking, and Helen Jacobs, the girl of 17 years who came from Berkeley, Calif., like Miss Wills to seek national honors among the girls.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, yesterday followed the titleholder into the ranks of those who carry made-over noses.

Dempsey's rebuilt nose was still veiled in bandages when Kearns visited a plastic surgeon yesterday and had his straightened, according to star Hollywood specifications.

Questions

1. What are the rights of the batsman as to stepping out of the box after the pitcher has pitched the rubber and is in a position to deliver the ball?—D. S. A.
2. Two players go after a fly ball in the outfield and collide, both being knocked unconscious. The batsman had just turned first base when the collision occurred. He reached third on the hit. What has he entitled to advance at his peril after the accident?—D. A. B.
3. Batsman tries his best to dodge a wild pitch. His bat comes into contact with the ball and results in a grounder to the pitcher, who follows the batter at first. Is such a play legal, or should the happening be treated as an accident and the ball regarded as dead?—C. G.
4. With the bases filled, a triple steal is started. Runner coming home is retired at the plate on a close play; others reach their objectives in safety. How is this play scored relative to stolen bases?—H. S.

Answers

1. The batsman after getting into the box is supposed to remain there. Conditions often arise, however, that necessitate his stepping out. On appeal, the umpire permits such action, provided the pitcher has not actually started his delivery.
2. The umpire is powerless to give the accident any consideration. He cannot call time until all chances for a play have ceased and the pitcher is on the rubber with the ball in his possession. Runner is entitled to third.
3. The play is legal. The batter who tried to dodge the wild pitch and hit the ball is out when retired at first.
4. On a double or triple steal, if one of the runners is retired, none of the others are credited with a stolen base.

MORAN-KAPLAN BOUT STOPPED

New Haven Referee Halts Contest in Ninth Round—Made Two Decisions

First Declared Bout "No Contest," Then Proclaimed Kaplan Winner

Moran Claims to Have Injured Hand in Second Round—X-Ray Taken

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22.—Development of X-ray plates made early today of injury to the left hand of Pal Moran of New Orleans, is expected to determine the exact nature of the injury which Dr. Charles P. Dunn, physician for the boxing board of the town of Hamden, declares Moran suffered during the nine rounds of what was supposed to be a 12-round go with Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., at Weiss park, Hamden, last night. Referee McHugh stopped the fight at the end of the ninth and first announced that the bout was no contest and all bets were off. Then on advice of Thomas Donahue, chairman of the state boxing commission, McAuliffe made his way through the milling crowd, re-entered the ring and held up the hand of Kaplan as winner of the bout. The decision was based on the claim of the hand of the state boxing commission that Moran was not trying. The huge crowd was in an uproar, having previously voiced their displeasure at Moran's poor showing. Kaplan plainly had the advantage throughout the nine rounds.

The members of the Hamden and state boxing commission, stirred an investigation of the fight early today and some announcement was expected from them during today. Award of the money of the two contestants was held up pending a decision. After an examination of Moran's left hand at the New Haven hospital following the fight, Dr. Dunn announced that a ligament in the wrist was torn and that in his opinion Moran would be unable to box again for at least a month. Moran claims to have injured his hand in the second round in stopping one of Kaplan's right swings. Though warned by the referee that he was not doing his best, he said he decided to continue at a disadvantage.

PRINCE OF WALES SAILS TOMORROW FOR U. S.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The Prince of Wales has packed his trunks, bid good-bye to his cronies and, with the exception of a few official matters to be attended to today, is ready to hand over his tickets to the purser of the Berongaria which will leave tomorrow from Southampton to take him on his second visit to the United States.

Wales' trip this time will lack the exclusiveness of his first visit, which was made in a British man-of-war, for the capacity of the Berongaria has been packed by debutants who for various reasons are cutting off their European trips to hurry homeward on this particular floor.

DEATH OF ACTRESS DUE TO UNUSUAL CAUSE

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—One of the most unusual causes of death was pronounced by city medical authorities today as having been found in a post-mortem examination of Mrs. Mark Warnock, laborer, a fallen actress, who came here from Independence, Mo., a few years ago to enter the theatrical profession.

The young woman was found to be a user of a narcotic by Dr. Alexander O. Goettler, city toxicologist, after other medical examiners pronounced death due to heart disease, while she was bathing.

Dr. Goettler found a small quantity of water in the heart, beside proof that the young woman used a narcotic. From this he established the conclusion that she had been temporarily overcome by the drug and fallen until her head was submerged causing her to take water into the lungs.

PACIFIC STAR WITH SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Manager Harris of the Senators thinks he has picked up an outfield find in Earl McNeely.

EARL McNEELY

Neely, recently acquired from the Sacramento club of the Pacific coast league in exchange for Wild Matthews and a bundle of fresh-mown coin, McNeely is a hard hitter and a sure, swift fielder.

NASHUA AND SILESIA WILL CLASH TONIGHT

Nashua and Silesia are programmed for a baseball meeting in North Chelmsford tonight. As there is abundant rivalry between these two clubs, hundreds of Nashua fans are coming down tonight for their favorite Silesia will probably start Rube Greenhigh in the box. He has been going good lately and his supporters are counting on him to hold the up-river man in check. Faulkner of the St. Andrew's team has been added to the Silesia roster and will get into the game tonight. Silesia will play Pitchburg at North Chelmsford next Sunday afternoon.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

After their victory over the Fenwick A.A. the Olympics will play the Detroit Tigers at 2 o'clock next Sunday, on the North common. The players are: M. Sampas, N. Spud, J. Conakos, N. Mastakouras, G. Drakos, G. Leontakos, Charles Sampos, P. Marakos and T. Tsounakakis.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 5

Of course Flip wasn't able to hit Jack very hard and Jack was very careful lest he injure his dog. So the boxing match ended with nobody hurt. When Jack grew tired he suddenly turned and ran. Flip started after him and took a funny fall when he got tangled up in his boxing gloves.

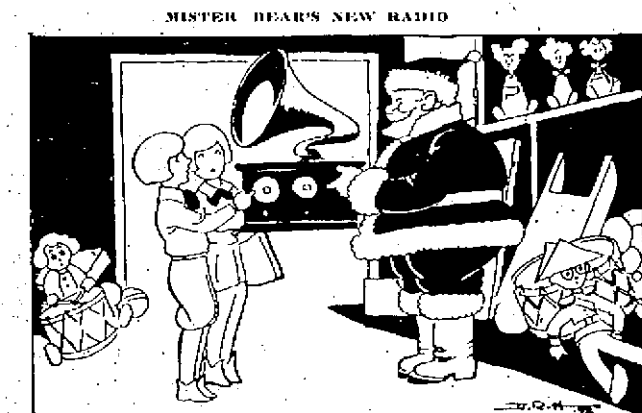

This made the dog a bit angry and, before the sailors or Jack could stop him, Flip had ripped both gloves off his paws. Jack then took his gloves off and handed them back to one of the sailors. At that moment the ship's supper bell rang and there was a wild scramble for the dining room.

When Jack, who had a start on the rest of the crew, reached the little stairway leading to the dining room, Flip dashed after him and with one leap, reached the bottom. Then, just as Jack got out of the way, all of the other sailors came tearing down. (Continued.)

SANTA CLAUS HAD A RADIO WHICH HE GAVE THEM.

"Tell me some more news," said Santa Claus. "I tell you all the news and sing to you and play to you, and tell you bedtime stories." "Bedtime stories!" laughed Santa Claus. "Why, up here where we live we only go to bed once a year and we stay there six months. One bedtime story a year would do. But if it tells the news, I'd like to have one. How do you get one?" "You buy it at the store," said Nick. "There was a very bad storm. Like something or other, and it blew the whole town of What-ever-it-was clear away." "Where? I know it!" declared Santa Claus. "And wasn't there a fire anywhere?" "Why, yes," said Weeny. "There was a very bad fire in the forest and it burned a thousand miles of trees down." "Well, well, well!" said Santa Claus. "That is news indeed! And wasn't there an airplane going somewhere?" "Why, yes," said Weeny. "Some men from—ah, goodness! I never can remember the name of the place, flew to—I forget the name of the other place, too." "Now, that's what I call exciting," beamed Santa Claus. "If there is anything I like, it is news. I live so far away from everybody I never know a thing. This newspaper I can know a thing ten years old and it's all worn out!" "Why don't you get a radio?" asked Nick. "A radio what?" asked Santa Claus. "Why, it's a machine you put on

SAYS KID MCCOY SUFFERING FROM PAREISIS—A FORM OF DEMENTIA

Death on Gallows or Living Death of Paralysis and
Total Dementia Today Appeared All That Was
Left for Once Dapper Prince of the Ring

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Death on the gallows or the living death of paralysis and total dementia today appeared all that was left for Kid McCoy, once dapper prince of the ring, charged with the murder of Mrs. Theresa W. Moss here Aug. 12.

The prisoner's eighth wife, Dagmar Dahlgren, dealt his defense a blow when she repudiated a previous affidavit volunteered to show he could not have been guilty of the murder.

Then an alienist sent into his cell by defense attorneys reported that even if McCoy could prove his innocence he would fall victim within three years to complete paralysis and total dementia.

The alienist, Dr. Cecil Reynolds, said McCoy is "without question" suffering from pareisis—a form of dementia due to organic changes of the brain and brought on in his case by excessive addition to alcohol and a blood infection of long standing.

The alienist which Miss Dahlgren repudiated when questioned by the district attorney was to the effect that she had been spying on Mrs. Moss and McCoy, saw McCoy leave the death apartment shortly before the shooting, saw a "black-set" man arrive, heard an argument and a shot and then saw the "black-set" man depart.

With the annihilation of this ally the testimony of Mrs. Ivy Martin, who insists she heard and saw two men fleeing from the apartment after the shooting and that one of them was Albert Moss, former husband of Mrs. Moss, still remains on which to base a theory of the slaying which might exonerate McCoy. Police, however, insist Mrs. Martin could not possibly have seen Moss fleeing from the apartment, since they know he was elsewhere at that hour.

Meanwhile federal investigators continue to trace the origin and channels of entry into the United States of a fortune in precious stones said to have been in the possession of Moss or his divorced wife at the time of her death. Two seizures of gems from Mrs. Moss' safety deposit boxes have already been made, and another lot of jewels was recovered when Mrs. Jennie Thomas, sister of McCoy, turned them over to the district attorney with the explanation that her brother left them with her the night of Mrs. Moss' death.

Moss' alleged theft was stripped from his divorced wife after she was slain.

The body of Mrs. Moss today was to begin its way to New York where it will rest in a grave provided by her parents.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

More Alleged "Drunk Driver" Cases Called Today—Other Cases Heard

In dealing with two alleged "drunk driver" cases in district court this morning, Judge Enright refused to grant continuances until next month, but granted continuances to Aug. 28 and 30, saying that it was his intention to have all such cases, if appealed, reach the superior court for the September term.

Today's cases involved Michael J. Prendergast of West Somerville, who was arrested last night by Patrolman Thomas B. Riley, and Eugene A. Fournier of this city, who was arrested about a week ago. Both pleaded not guilty.

Cross charges of assault and battery, involving Daniel E. Callahan and Edgar F. Twombly, of Billerica, were continued to next Monday.

Roland Appleton, who was brought back to this city from Lynn by Officer Matthew McConnery yesterday afternoon, was found guilty of non support and was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction on condition that he pay $10 a week to the probation officer to be turned over to his wife.

John F. Murphy appealed a sentence to the state farm for drunkenness. James Flannery, drunkenness, was continued until tomorrow.

Will donate cars for children's outing

Announcement was made today by a member of the children's outing committee of Lowell Lodge of Elks that the street railway company will provide transportation to and from the outing free of charge and that the blue uniform employees of the company have also donated their services as operators of these cars.

Plans for the outing, which will be held at Abnott Field next Monday, are practically complete and it is expected that at least 4000 "kiddies" will be guests of local Elks on that occasion.

Between 20 and 30 extra cars will be necessary to provide transportation for this number. To insure these cars would have made the cost of the outing very high but through the courtesy of Manager Maurice McCormick and Supt. Thomas J. Sayers of the street railway company and officials of the Elks, a large number of use and operation of the cars is promised at no cost to the Elks.

Every precautionary measure will be taken to provide for the safety of the children while they are under the care of the Elks. A large number of police officers and firemen will be on duty at the park during the outing and it is understood that many officers and firemen will be off duty Monday have volunteered their services.

Contracts or in writing public laws. "It is the treating of all classes and all sections of the country on an equal basis. It is the avoidance of secrecy and whispering and sharp practice in the management of public affairs. Men love darkness rather than light only when their deeds are evil. Whether in Washington or out of it we will have no invisible advisers in our party councils, no alliance with any of those who work in secret for secret ends."

Mr. Davis told his audience that this was only one of the points on which the republican and democratic parties differ, and he promised that as the campaign proceeded some of the points already clear would become "plainer still."

"They outwardly deplore special privilege, except in the sacred guise of a protective tariff," he said. "We oppose it in this and every other form. They believe, or profess to believe, that agriculture should be on an economic basis with other industries. They have no plans to this end, but the appointment of a committee to investigate, and advise that the farmer provide himself with leaders not interested in politics. We think that the first step to economic equality is to deprive others of their unjust advantages."

"They are content to conduct the foreign affairs of the United States through private citizens, unofficially observing. We think America is great enough to speak in her own name. They propose now, after nearly four years of absolute inaction, to enroll the United States as a member of the court of international justice. We promise to do so as soon as power is in our hands."

"They present a party made up of a president facing in one direction, a congress in another and the rank and file scattered in between. We have a harmonious army, officers and privates marching to a common end."

MAN ARRESTED FOR PRAYING IN CEMETERY

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Sam Gilden, forty-nine, was before Magistrate Miller in Jamaica court yesterday on a disorderly conduct charge.

"What did he do?" asked Magistrate Miller of Mortimer Gold, the complainant.

"Prayed in a cemetery," replied Gold.

"What did he pray for?" asked the court.

"For money," answered the complainant.

Gold said he is superintendent of the Bayside cemetery, near Wood Haven, and Gilden was soliciting jobs at praying over graves and found a couple of customers. It is against the law to pray in a graveyard without a license, it was explained.

LINER MAJESTIC RUNS AGROUND, REFLOATED

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The giant steamship Majestic, in-bound from New York, grounded on a sandbank at the entrance to Southampton water at low tide this afternoon, but was refloated with the aid of two tugs a short time afterward and proceeded to Southampton.

WAS FINED $150 FOR ILLEGAL KEEPING

George Stampan of Front street, was fined $150 in district court this morning, when he was found guilty of illegally keeping liquor for sale. His premises were raided yesterday afternoon by Officers Aldrich, Liston, Joy and Leachy of the liquor squad, who encountered opposition in the person of defendant's step-daughter, Helen Kudzaras, with the result that she also was arrested on a charge of interference. Her case has been continued to next Friday.

When officers entered Stampan's house, seven men were gathered around a table and two of them were drinking. All scattered on sight of the officers, but the girl maintained her courage and attempted to strike Officer Aldrich with a tonic case. Her effort was frustrated, however, and she was placed under arrest when she persisted in interrupting the officers in their search.

The same officers, with Patrolmen John Danley and John Kelley, conducted a second raid in Second street yesterday and arrested Antonio Styx. He was arrested on an illegal keeping charge today and on a plea of not guilty he was continued to September 5. At this place, the officers seized 27 quarts of alleged moonshine and a 16-gallon still.

KHAKI UNIFORMS FOR TRAFFIC SQUAD

The new khaki uniforms for Lowell's traffic squad arrived at the police station this morning from the office of the manufacturer, Harding Uniform Co., of Boston. The officers will probably don them tomorrow.

Sergt. Hugh Maguire, acting supervisor of traffic, in discussing the traffic problem this morning, stated that he favors the plan of the Boston police authorities of introducing uniform traffic signals for all officers. Were such methods adopted universally, he said, much confusion would be eliminated, and would benefit automobilists and tourists alike.

People cannot begin to consider the problems the local police have to contend with in regulating traffic, the sergeant says. The lack of parallel streets in the downtown section of the city makes it extremely difficult to route traffic out of the congested areas as other cities have done. With a little more co-operation between motorists, pedestrians and traffic officers, the traffic situation, he believes, will be greatly remedied.

Plans Complete for Picturesque Affair to Be Held in Memorial Auditorium—Matinee and Evening Performance—Complete Cast Was Made Known Today

Plans are complete for the gigantic and picturesque pageant "A Trip to the Isle of Dolls," to be presented next Thursday afternoon and evening, in Lowell Memorial Auditorium, by the children of the playgrounds of Lowell. The presentation of this magnificent pageant will mark the formal ending of the 1924 summer playground program conducted under the auspices of the municipal park department.

The matinee performance will be given at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the staging of the stupendous spectacle will require a full two and a half hours. The evening performance will commence promptly at 8 o'clock. The pageant is expected to eclipse by far the superb entertainment and demonstration which marked the "Pageant of Nations," so lavishly and entertainingly given by the children a year ago.

The work of putting on the great annual affair is under the competent direction of Arthur C. Sullivan, director of all municipal playground work. He has been assisted in the many details in connection therewith, including the publicity work in advance of the showing, by Miss Mary A. Dowd, supervisor of playgrounds. Mr. Sullivan has spared no effort to make certain that the presentation this year will more than live up to the promising advance notices and he has had the ardent co-operation of the many playground workers who have coached their charges carefully in accordance with the plans outlined by him.

The coaching has been both recreational and disciplinary, giving to the children a decided training that is likely to ever be an asset. The various playground teachers have entered wholeheartedly into the spirit of the vast amount of work involved in preparing their charges and through their co-operation a most effective and pleasing pageant is certain to be the outcome.

For the first time the complete cast was made known today at the office of the park department and the personnel of the various well-drilled dancing teams whose offerings will feature the affair, followed by the Irish Dances, coached by Miss Margaret Gallagher, Greenhalge school; Boys: Leslie Dube, Helen Garvey, Helen Giblin, Annette Manneau, Christina Duffy, Girls: Jeannette Soucier, Ellen Fennel, Anne Fitzpatrick, Juliet Lussan, Hilda Larkin.
